Federal Court Decisions Apparently End Segregation

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Two teen-age Negroes tucked their books under their arms today and quietly sat down in classes with white students after federal court rulings swept aside nearly two centuries of segregation at the University of Georgia.

Charlayne A. Hunter, 18, and Hamilton E. Holmes, 19, trudged along the oak and elm lined walkways to psychology and zoology classes respectively.

No crowds bothered them. There was just the usual flow of students making their way to the 9 a.m. classes in a score of buildings spread out over an area of more than two miles.

Some of the white boys and girls cast curious glances at the two Negroes. Others paid them no attention. Some spoke to them. There were no jeers or catcalls and it was just another day starting at one of the nation's higher educational centers.

A young freshman adviser walked into Meigs Hall, where psychology classes are held, with Miss Hunter.

Arger In Atlanta While all was quiet in the university town, there were rumblings in Atlanta of further displeasure with integration on any level.

House Speaker George L. Smith, Jr., State Auditor B. E. Thrasher, Jr., expressed the opinion that the present appropriations act automatically cuts off funds to the university when integrated. Regardless of their views, normal operations proceeded.

Gov. Ernest Vandiver has said an order must be signed by himself as head of the budget bureau before there would be any cutoff. A high source at the university, declining use of his name, expressed the view that positive action would be needed by someone if there is any disruption.

Protests to Judge The U.S. Supreme Court yesterday refused Georgia's plea to further delay integration at the school.

Gov. Vandiver said the appeal to the high court exhausted the state's legal remedies. Vandiver earlier was stopped.

Three Drown as Car Plunges Off Bay De Noc Ice

GLADSTONE, Mich. (AP) — Three men drowned Tuesday night when their car plunged off the ice and into 12 feet of water in Little Bay De Noc at Gladstone.

The victims were Ray Zanon, 27 and John Mancos, 37, both of Niagara, Wis., and Fred Cattlan, 47, of Norway, Mich.

All are employees of the Kimberly-Clark Niagara mill. A companion, Edward Vermuelen, 52, of Norway, managed to swim to safety.

State police said the men were driving their car on the ice and apparently failed to see open water. The car plunged into the water and Vermuelen swam to safety. The other men, troopers said, apparently stood on top of the car for awhile, but then went under the ice.

Skin divers were to begin searching for the bodies today.

131 Seized In Uruguayan Raid on Reds

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) —

Police raided the headquarters of the Communist party today and arrested 131 persons.

The police launched a drive against planned pro-Castro demonstrations as the government considered breaking relations with Cuba.

Tension gripped this capital as Communists and other partisans of Prime Minister Fidel Castro planned new demonstrations. A mammoth demonstration was called for tomorrow, and motorcades to rally support were scheduled in some parts of the city tonight.

One Dead, Dozens Hurt

One man was killed and dozens were wounded, some seriously, when police tried to separate leftists from 3,000 anti-Castro demonstrators last night. The leftists had tried to break up the anti-Castro meeting and fighting spread through a 20-block area downtown.

Storefronts were shattered as demonstrators battled police with sticks and stones. Tear gas was used by the police. Some shots were heard.

More than 50 persons were arrested in the fighting. Others took refuge in the Communist party headquarters. Police stood guard outside the building until they got orders to move inside.

Uruguay's ruling government council is consulting with other Latin American governments before deciding whether to break with Havana.

Messages Say Yacht Capsized

LONDON (AP) — A Honduran yacht keeled over in heavy seas off the coast of Spanish Morocco today and at least 43 men, women and children aboard are missing, according to radio messages picked up here tonight.

Royal Air Force rescue planes and a naval tug left Gibraltar to search for survivors.

One message heard by shipping radio monitors said a Spanish fishing boat had picked up the captain of the yacht and a woman passenger.

The yacht's name was given as Price. It is not listed in Lloyd's Register of Shipping.

Police Arrest Haiti's Ranking Prelate, Put Him Aboard Plane

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) —

The expulsion of Haiti's leading Roman Catholic bishop, orders for the deportation of four other priests and closing of the church paper threaten a new crisis in President Francois Duvalier's relations with the Vatican.

The bishop was the second Catholic prelate deported in less than two months. Duvalier's government charged both were interfering in its efforts to root out Communist and pro-Castro students from the University of Haiti. But back of both cases was Duvalier's suspicion that the churchmen were friendly to his political foes.

Put On Plane

Bishop Remy Augustin, 50, apostolic administrator, was put on a plane for Puerto Rico by police Tuesday night 14 hours after he had been taken from his bed and arrested. He was not allowed to take along even his false teeth.

In San Juan, Bishop Augustin denied any connection with any anti-government group and said, "I don't know why I was arrested and deported."

The Haiti-born bishop had been running church affairs in this predominantly Catholic Negro country since November, when Archbishop Francois Poirier, 56, was deported to his native France on charges he had given a $7,000 check to aid striking university students.

The archbishop denied the charges and the Vatican protested the "grave episode."

Police closed down the Catholic newspaper La Phalange and ordered all schools closed a month early for Christmas vacation. Then Duvalier released Rocard general of the archbishopric.

Francois le Nir, its secretary-general; Jean Baptiste Bettebourg, rector of Port au Prince's largest Catholic high school, Saint Martial, and Emile Callee.

A government decree ordered the four priests deported.

Taxes Top Problem as Legislature Convenes

Dillon Declares He Won't Ask Revenue Cut to Aid Economy

Believes Problem of Gold Drainage Can be Solved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Douglas Dillon, selected to be secretary of the treasury in the Kennedy administration, said today he has no intention now of recommending a temporary tax cut to give the economy a lift.

He also told the Senate Finance Committee at a hearing on his appointment that it would be entirely up to congress to decide whether to delegate authority to the President to raise or lower taxes.

In reply to questions about the drain on U. S. gold as a result of the adverse international balance of payments, he said he believed the problem could be solved in a way that would not adversely affect the economy of the free world.

No Public Discussion

Dillon said, however, that he did not want to discuss in public session the steps that might be taken.

The hearing was the first by a senate committee on any of the cabinet appointments announced by President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Others are planned later in the week, and Democratic leaders hope that all of the cabinet officers-designate can be cleared for senate confirmation shortly after Kennedy's inauguration on Jan. 20.

At the outset of the Finance Committee hearing, Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said no action could be taken on Dillon's appointment until after the nomination is formally submitted to the senate. The formal nomination cannot be made until Kennedy is inaugurated.

Dillon is one of the two Republicans selected by Kennedy to serve in his cabinet. A New York investment banker, Dillon served in the outgoing Eisenhower administration as under secretary of state.

The Foreign Relations Committee plans a hearing Thursday on a second top Cabinet figure, Dean Rusk, designated as secretary of state.

Orville L. Freeman, Kennedy's choice for secretary of agriculture, goes before the Senate Agriculture Committee Friday.

Senate Vote on Anti-Filibuster Bill Doubtful

Motion to Refer It To Rules Committee Beaten by Liberals

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leadership move to sidetrack a fight over strengthening the Senate's anti-filibuster rule fueled fresh controversy today and left prospects for a vote in doubt.

A motion to refer the dispute to the Senate Rules Committee for study was offered late Tuesday by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana with the backing of Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

But liberals of both parties rose in protest and Mansfield's attempt to obtain agreement to vote on the motion Friday was blocked.

Fears Long Fight

Ever since the Senate met Jan. 3 it has been caught up in a dispute over whether to change its rules to make it easier to break a filibuster. It now takes a two-thirds majority of senators voting.

Mansfield, in moving to refer the issue to the Rules Committee for hearings, said he wanted to avoid a long, disruptive fight at the start of the session that would delay action on President-elect John F. Kennedy's legislative program.

As chairman of the Rules Committee, he pledged to leave no stone unturned to bring back for action later in the session a measure to place a tighter curb on filibusters.

Leaders of a bipartisan group of 23 senators backing a proposal to permit debates to be limited by the vote of 51 senators, or a majority of the 100 members, protested this course.

Democrats Name Huber Floorleader

MADISON (AP) — Robert Huber, 40, of Milwaukee, serving his seventh term in the Wisconsin Legislature, was elected Democratic floorleader of the Assembly Tuesday.

He served as Assembly speaker pro tem last session and was the party's floorleader in 1955 and in 1957.

Also elected at the Democratic caucus were George Molinaro of Kenosha, caucus chairman; William W. Ward, New Richmond, assistant floorleader; Earl Warren, Racine, caucus vice chairman; Ben Arieher, Athens, caucus secretary and John R. Gray, Antigo, caucus sergeant-at-arms.

Molinaro, who served as Assembly speaker last session, also was named as the party's Policy Committee chairman. Molinaro said that the caucus voted "overwhelmingly" to continue its closed caucus policy.

$90 Million Shortage Seen; Basic Structure Overhaul Due for Debate

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin's 1961 Legislature convened at noon today faced with state problems which will require a lot of full working days to resolve.

Meeting a $90 million revenue shortage expected to result from passage of the state's 1961-63 budget tops the list. The Department of Administration's most recent estimate places the budget request at a record $506 million.

Probably more vital to those who will have to shoulder the increased tax load will be the Legislature's progress on proposals for sweeping revisions in Wisconsin's basic tax structure.

The proposals come from a 19-member citizen's committee appointed by Gov. Gaylord Nelson and include a recommendation that the Legislature enact a two per cent sales tax and boost income levies to give 100 million in property tax relief.

Today's session was devoted almost entirely to the installation of newly-elected members in the 133-man lawmaking body.

New Men Preside Two major changes in the makeup of the Legislature saw new men take the gavels as presiding officers in both the Senate and Assembly. They are Lt. Gov. Warren Knowles, a New Richmond Republican, and Assemblyman David Blanchard, R-Edgerton.

Knowles, who unseated Philo Nash in the election, returned to the Senate president's job that was his in the 1955 and 1957 sessions. Blanchard took over as Assembly speaker as a result of that house's shift to a 55-45 Republican majority.

5 Changes In Senate In all, there are 46 legislative seats occupied by either new men or men who served in previous sessions.

Five of the changes occur in the White House to John F. Kennedy.

GOP Assemblymen Have Briefing Session

MADISON (AP) — Republican Assemblymen met this morning for a briefing session only hours before the opening of the 1961 session of the Wisconsin Legislature.

In an open caucus the GOP assemblymen prepared bills and resolutions to be introduced, and went over procedures for seating the legislators.

Chief clerk-designate Robert Marotz, a former GOP assembly speaker, said returning assemblymen would have first choice of seats. The next choice will go to new Republicans. New Democrats will choose last.

Marotz advised new assemblymen to "choose seats next to older Republican members."

Major State Department, Treasury Jobs Now Filled

George W. Ball Given Economic Affairs Post; Henry H. Fowler To Serve Under Douglas Dillon

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy today completed the State Department high command with the appointment of a close political associate of Adlai E. Stevenson as undersecretary of state for economic affairs.

Kennedy, back at the seaside home of his parents after a week of conferences in New York, Boston and Washington, gave the foreign policy job to George W. Ball, 51, a Democrat who has a background of service in government and now is a Washington attorney specializing in international law.

Ball long has been a chief political adviser to Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee in 1952 and 1956, recently picked by Kennedy to be ambassador to the United Nations.

No. 3 Man
Selection of Ball was announced by the president-elect as he turned to concentrated work on his Jan. 20 inaugural address. The $20,000 a year job as undersecretary for economic affairs, Ball will be the No. 3 man in the State Department.

Shortly before flying to Palm Beach from Washington Tuesday night, Kennedy also completed the top echelon of the Treasury

Fowler, also a Washington lawyer who has served in a number of government positions, as undersecretary of the Treasury.

Fowler was picked by Kennedy after consultation with secretary of the Treasury-designate Douglas

Hoffa May Get Chance To Answer Charges of Link With Mobster

Secretly-Made Recording Given As Evidence in Rackets Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa may get a chance today to answer testimony that he advised a mobster it is all right to rob the union—but don't get caught.

A secretly made recording was produced as evidence Tuesday by the Senate Investigations subcommittee, which is holding hearings on alleged dealings between Hoffa and New York mobster Anthony (Tony Ducks) Corallo. Investigators identified the recording as a conversation Corallo had with two officials of New York Teamsters Local 239.

Corallo is a former vice president of Local 239. The subcommittee contends he still runs it with the help of stooges.

Other Witnesses
The recording was made June 30, 1959, almost a year after Corallo ostensibly had resigned his union office.

Jerome S. Adlerman, the subcommittee counsel, said the group wants to quiz Hoffa about the purported conversation but wants to hear some other witnesses first.

The playback by subcommittee Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., apparently came as a shock to Mack Tane, business agent of Local 239, and Bernard Stein, secretary-treasurer of the local. Both refused to answer questions, pleading possible self-incrimination.

Seated at the witness table, they heard loud, scratchy sounding voices alleged to be theirs, talking in a New York City apartment the district attorney's squad had "bugged."

Recorded Voices
New York police detectives Edward Straub and Natalie Laurendi testified the recorded voices were those of Corallo, Stein and Tane, with Stein and Tane relaying instructions from Hoffa.

The subcommittee is taking up where the old Senate rackets committee left off when it went out of business last March after three stormy years of investigating Hoffa and others. Hoffa has been acquitted in two federal court trials. He is awaiting a third trial on mail fraud charges.

High Court Upholds Dismissal of Suit to Block Construction
MADISON — A circuit court dismissal of a taxpayers' suit to block construction of a lakefront auditorium in Madison was upheld by the State Supreme Court Tuesday.

The high court action appeared to push aside the last legal hurdle to completion of the building, the first public structure planned for a Wisconsin location by the late Frank Lloyd Wright.

Legis action was required to win state approval for putting the building on a Lake Monona shore site.

In the taxpayers' suit, Joseph W. Jackson, a Madison resident and a longtime foe of the project, contended the city held only a "revocable" permit to build at the selected location and that the city had "grossly abused" its powers in going ahead with the $5.5 million project under such a circumstance.

The high court's opinion, written by Chief Justice John E. Martin said the city had not abused its discretion "simply because the state could divert the site to another public purpose some time in the future."

Hemingway to Leave Mayo Clinic Within Next Two Weeks
ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Famed author Ernest Hemingway is slated for release from the Mayo Clinic here within the next two weeks after undergoing medical treatment since Nov. 30.

A clinic spokesman said neither Hemingway nor his wife, who accompanied him, would permit disclosure of the nature of his illness. It was emphasized that no surgery was involved.

Hemingway registered here under an assumed name. His presence became known after residents recognized him during the daily walks the clinic informant said he is now taking.

guess who's coming to APPLETON?

Many people have asked whether Chiropractic is good for appendicitis, ulcers of the stomach, local infections, eye trouble, heart trouble, colitis, tonsillitis, or some of the hundreds of abnormalities which affect the human body. The answer is yes.

Nerves carrying life force supply all parts of the body including the appendix, stomach, eyes, heart, colon and tonsils. Nerve pressure prevents normal functioning of any one or any group of these organs. Removing the pressure from such a nerve will restore the normal structure which it supplies or the function which it governs.

There may be minor outside factors which influence the degree to which Chiropractic will have effect, but the basic principle is never altered.

Ike Agrees to Speak at GOP Fund Dinner

President Takes Party Leaders Off Political 'Hook'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has taken congressional Republicans off a political spot by agreeing to be their principal—and only—speaker at a June party fund-raising dinner.

Eisenhower's scheduled appearance at an affair honoring all Republican members of Congress probably will mark his first political task after he leaves the White House next week.

Date Shifted
When they shifted their dinner date from May to June to suit the retiring president's convenience and got his agreement to speak, congressional sponsors breathed a sigh of relief.

They had a star attraction without having to choose between any of the potential 1964 contenders for the party's presidential nomination.

Although they are welcome to attend if they want to, sponsors said they are not issuing special invitations to retiring Vice President Richard M. Nixon and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, a third possible contender, is one of the sponsors of the meeting as chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee.

Raise Funds
The dinner is designed to raise funds for the Senate and House campaign committees, which otherwise face a bleak financial outlook in drawing funds from the party's national committee. The parent committee is still $400,000 in debt from the presidential campaign.

Eisenhower's willingness to take on a political chore a little more than four months after he leaves office seems to indicate he may plan to be active for his party, as former President Harry S. Truman has been for the Democrats.

Actress Makes Up Her Mind—No Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Swedish-born actress Gita Hall, 27, decided she doesn't want to divorce actor Barry Sullivan, 48, after all.

Her attorney reported the reconciliation as her suit was about to go to trial Tuesday. The complaint, filed Nov. 22, charged cruelty. It was their second reconciliation since their marriage July 25, 1958. Miss Hall obtained a divorce decree June 25, 1959, but she and Sullivan reconciled before it became final.

Something in Common

11 Strangers Give Up Work to Help Child, 3

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A little girl lay near death in a hospital bed. Burns covered three-fifths of her body.

Several hundred miles away, 11 strangers left their work to give her a hand.

They had two things in common: All had been badly burned. All offered their blood in sympathy for a tiny sufferer none of them knew.

Dozens of others read about Julia Howe, 3, a Marine sergeant's daughter, and telephoned Nellis Air Force Base to offer the only thing that might help—blood.

They called from Honolulu, Boston, Seattle and points between. So many called that the doctors asked them to stop.

Pint of Blood
An Air Force C47 flew most of the 11 from Los Angeles to Nellis. Each gave a pint of blood.

Bill Nolte, 34, a Cherry Valley, Calif., diemaker, waited nine hours at the airport for the plane.

"I can't put it in words—what can I say?" he told questioners. "I just know what burns are, and I know what the little girl is going through."

Nolte suffered second- and third-degree burns when his mid-gut race car cracked up at 130 miles an hour in 1953. He was hospitalized four months and treated another seven.

Hal Steinman, 24, a Santa Monica, Calif., grocery clerk, was "repaying a debt." When he was 7, a manhole explosion burned him so badly that doctors twice abandoned hope. Blood given by 31 of his father's fellow policemen sustained him.

In 1936, Steinman—then a paratrooper—was critically burned again when his plane caught fire over Germany. He jumped—and spent a year in the hospital.

British Counterspies Alerted Against Warsaw-Based Ring

Scotland Yard Raids Polish Ship; See Link With Arrest of 5 Persons

LONDON (AP) — British counter-intelligence agents were reported on guard against a Warsaw-based spy ring today following a Scotland Yard raid on a Polish freighter docked in London.

British Commonwealth nations to guard against spies from Warsaw may be connected with the arrest of five persons Saturday on charges of spying on a top-secret navy research base.

Three of the five are believed to be Canadians. They are Peter J. Kroger, a bookseller, his wife, Helen, both 50, and Gordon A. Lonsdale, 37, who described himself as a corporation executive. The others arrested were employees at the base, Henry F. Houghton, 55, and Ethel Gee, 46.

Detailed Check
Scotland Yard agents boarded the 3,219-ton Jaroslaw Dabrowski last night and for more than three hours made a detailed check on crew and passengers.

Agents refused to say what they were searching for. All visitors to the ship were turned away by a Polish officer who stood at the gangway as a mixed cargo was unloaded under arc lights.

The ship has figured in at least one spy case. In July 1952 a Soviet embassy official, Pavel Kuznetsov, slipped aboard to be taken home. He was believed to have directed William Marshall, a British diplomatic service radio operator jailed for giving the Russians secret British information.

Informants said British intelligence has learned spies posing as immigrants are filtering into the Commonwealth. Special warnings reportedly have gone to Canada, Australia and New Zealand. Britain also rushed to Washington.

Federal Highway Program Needs a Push

As might be expected, the American Automobile Association (AAA) is keeping a careful eye out to make sure there is no interruption in the construction of the 41,000-mile network of federal highway authorized by Congress in 1956. It is equally interested in seeing that not too much of the expense is pushed onto motorists.

The Wisconsin publication of the AAA recently pointed out that, including toll roads blanketed into the interstate system, there now are 9,600 miles of the project open to traffic. Contracts have been let and construction is underway on an additional 4,680 miles. The program is scheduled for completion in 1972 but there always is the possibility of unexpected happenings interrupting such an undertaking. Motorists generally will be interested in the advance of this program on the claim that while it will constitute only 1.2 per cent of the nation's road mileage it will carry 20 per cent or more of its total traffic.

It will serve directly 65 per cent of the nation's urban population and 45 per cent of the rural population.

It will join 42 capitals, 90 per cent of all cities over 50,000 population. It will save an estimated 4,000 lives annually because of controlled access and better safety engineering.

There may be danger ahead for the program due to the fact that Congress must take action to maintain financing prior to June 30, 1961. It may be recalled that in 1959 Congress was obliged to add a temporary 1-cent increase to the federal gasoline tax to keep the program going. In the previous year, Congress had stepped up the program and for this reason and others the incoming revenue was less than needed. With the adoption of the additional gasoline tax Congress also provided that, upon the termination of this temporary 1-cent tax on June 30, 1961, the fund would be maintained by the use of 50 per cent of the federal passenger car excise taxes and 62½ per cent of the excise taxes on parts and accessories.

Able Men for Diplomatic Posts

President-Elect Kennedy appears to be determined to man our diplomatic posts with the best talent the nation affords. His first step in that direction was taken at a conference he held with Rep. John J. Rooney (D-N.Y.) in an effort to get more expense money for ambassadors.

Rep. Rooney, as chairman of the House Appropriations Subcommittee, has fought against increasing this expense money for years. He has referred to ambassadorial entertainment funds as "booze allowances."

Because Congress has refused to supply adequate funds for American ambassadors in the past, it has been necessary for presidents to name wealthy persons to such posts. It is reported that Joseph Kennedy, father of the President-Elect, spent about $100,000 a year of his own money while he was ambassador to Great Britain. Similar sums have been spent by ambassadors to Paris and Rome. Since such expenditures appear to be required it always has been necessary to select ambassadors from among the wealthy candidates. It is pointed out that even though a career diplomat was available for the post, and obviously could do a better job because of his training, the president would be in no position to name him for he could not stand the expense. Likewise, even if the president had in mind a non-career man with special training such as a university professor who had become an expert on international

Aid for Small Business

Almost every legislative attempt to assist business these days relates to relief from federal taxes in one way or another.

Therefore it is not unusual that Rep. Melvin R. Laird follows this path in his bill to "permit growth of small and medium sized businesses." Rep. Laird believes that it is essential that both large and small businesses have equal opportunity to grow and expand. However, he thinks that under present federal law, economic growth is discouraged and premium is placed on cannibalism with larger companies swallow smaller ones." He says that in our private enterprise system the economic growth traditionally comes from small, medium and new businesses. These enterprises finance their growth essentially from retained earnings, not from bank borrowings, new equity capital or other sources which are available to their larger competitors. Thus the tax system prevents the small businesses from retaining a certain proportion of their earnings and "by taxing the seed corn of economic growth, we are stunting the healthy economic growth needed to meet present world conditions."

The Laird bill provides that a person engaged in a trade or a business shall be allowed as a deduction for the taxable year an amount equal to the additional investment in the trade or business during that year. To confine the principal benefits to small businesses it is provided that the deduction shall not exceed $30,000 or 20 per cent of the net income of the trade or business, whichever is lesser.

Rep. Laird said that this adjustment will make immediately available to all businesses an opportunity to obtain capital for business expansion, thus widening the employment opportunities, stimulating competition, and broadening the sources of revenue needed to sustain an increased budget for a growing nation. To those who object that this measure would threaten the revenue sources of the federal government, Rep. Laird replied that "It is quite the other way around. If we do not stop taxing the seed corn we will not have the economic growth from which we have been deriving our increased federal revenues. The point is not whether the treasury can stand the enactment of this type of legislation. The question is rather how long the federal treasury can stand not to have it enacted."

It is the old story over and over again. If business wants money it must either get it in loans or grants from the government or it must retain its money through a tax exemption. On the other hand, if the government wants to be assured of a regular income it must somehow encourage the development of business.

problems, he again would be prevented from naming him by the mere facts of the financial requirements.

There is some indication the President-Elect made a strong impression upon Rep. Rooney. Following the conference, Rooney said he is in accord with the principle of appointing career diplomats to the most important capitals abroad. He predicted that Congress will supply sufficient funds to enable career men to carry on in such positions. He insisted, however, that each case would be judged individually on its merits and assured reporters that he had no idea of opening the floodgates for bigger and better expense allowances. Mr. Rooney's attitude, while encouraging, leaves a definite impression that we are far from solving this problem. In a democracy where all public moneys must be appropriated for a specific purpose and the spending accounted for it is extremely difficult to arrange for an exception for the diplomatic corps.

Quite obviously exact accounting of entertainment at a diplomatic post which included $100,000 a year for this purpose would be difficult to sell to the public. It would not be long until the whole business came under attack from congressmen who realize that certain elements of the public would support them in their opposition to such spending. Only a better public understanding will make the program possible.

New Trend Seen In Competition For Industry

From The Wisconsin Municipality

The race of communities to attract new industry continues.

The gimmick campaigns which have featured many efforts to win new industrial payrolls are being dropped.

The increasing mobility of people, a characteristic that has rubbed off on industry, is evidenced by the many commercial and industrial enterprises, that are establishing facilities near mushrooming centers of population.

One of the noteworthy trends is that many business enterprises seek locations in concentrated market areas, or where readily accessible by express ways, parkways, and turnpikes.

Charges 'Liberal Press' Renews Attack on Three Security Units

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The Milwaukee Journal in its Dec. 11th Sunday edition published an editorial which it titled, "Forgery by Film." This editorial, very similar to one previously published in the Washington Post, is part of the liberal press' annual drive to abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and the Senate Internal Security Sub-committee. The current attack is concentrated on a film produced by the H.C.U.A. showing Communist-inspired riots against the committee, which took place in San Francisco last May. The liberal press refuses to acknowledge that the riots were the results of Communist efforts. They take the naive approach and state that the riots were a spontaneous demonstration by good clean college students who deplore Communist tactics.

The main question which we as good Americans are wondering is whether the San Francisco riots were Communist inspired. In a report entitled, "Communist Target - Youth," U. S. Government Printing Office, J. Edgar Hoover gives a detailed account of how the Reds planned, staged, and participated in the stormy demonstration. He named controversial figures such as Merle Bradsley, Harry Bridges, Mickey Lima, Roscoe Proctor, Douglas Wastke, Archie Brown, and many others and describes what key roles each played in "Operation Abolition" — the Red's code term for the project. This report was supported by the six Protestant ministers' report as well as by the sheriff of San Francisco. It is obvious that the editorial board of the Milwaukee Journal failed to review the documented facts in this case but accepted the pink misinformed Washington Post as its authority.

I would like to mention that when Allan Barth of the Washington Post wrote his editorial, "Forgery by Film," he had not yet seen the film in question. He used as his reference

Need Safeguards Around Elections

From The Wichita Eagle

It is still the duty of the states to put more safeguards around the election procedure. Work is being done on a model law fixing party responsibility as to watchfulness at the polls. If all states should adopt such a law, it would not only strengthen parties but it would minimize doubts as to the honesty of vote counts in any election.

Another movie was produced of the San Francisco riots which is being distributed widely in foreign countries and college campuses. This movie was produced by the Communist Party U. S. The time is rapidly coming when we as freedom-loving Americans are going to have to either stand up to the Communist tactics or surrender our God-given rights.

Why Green Bay Airport Has Been So Successful

From The Green Bay Press Gazette

Austin Straubel Airport again has ranked fourth in the nation in the number of passengers enplaned from an airport serviced exclusively by a local airline. It also is fourth on the roles of North Central business, behind only the far larger cities of Milwaukee, Minneapolis and Chicago.

In announcing the figures, North Central President Hal Carr commended the handful of forward looking pioneers who were principally responsible for the location and building of Austin Straubel field. He particularly cited George Rocheleau, chairman of the Brown county board's airport committee at the time, Joseph Horner Jr., late general manager of the Press-Gazette, and Herbert Foth, consulting engineer. To some extent the location of Green Bay itself has contributed to the success of the airport.

But the site of the airport, its room for expansion and its distance, from the metropolitan area has made it possible for the number of stops North Central airlines make and the probability of greater development in the future. The picking of the site with an eye to air traffic progress made the difference.

In contrast to this is the squabble, now reaching as far as Gov. Nelson's office, between Outagamie and Winnebago Counties as to future plans for airport building. Both counties have inadequate airports for modern planes and traffic. Both airports are located on the edge of cities, and hemmed in by major highways, railroads or other obstacles. Neither can expand to any important degree. Rivalries, selfishness and nar-

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Jan. 12, 1861.

A dispatch to secessionists in Washington gives the details of the firing upon the steamship Star of the West, and says that four balls struck the steamer's hull.

A portion of the dispatch was confidential to Southern Senators, but it is understood that it urges them to remain in their seats to defeat objectionable legislation and the confirmation of McIntyre as Collector at the port of Charleston.

Sen. Wigfall publicly declares that only the Palmetto flag will be able to enter Charleston harbor until every gun at Fort Moultrie is dismounted.

Reliable authorities say that the Star of the West will be sent back to Charleston and, unless the President changes his mind, with ample naval force to engage the several batteries while she runs in and lands her men and cargo.

It is intimated in official circles that the steam revenue cutter Harriet Lane and the frigate Brooklyn will both accompany her on her next effort.

Legislators Usually Do Creditable Job

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — A man whose profession requires him to observe the legislature attentively was chatting with a newspaper correspondent about the probable distribution of key committee chairmanships in the new legislature.

Occasionally he would object to the reporter's guess about the command of a significant committee, commenting that the suggested nominee didn't possess sufficient experience, or background, or general competence.

"But the legislative leadership can only work with what the electorate has sent to Madison," retorted the reporter, repeating one of the ancient bromides of legislative politics.

It is a point that frequently is lost sight of by those citizens and others whose observation of the legislature is sporadic and fragmentary. The constitution does not contemplate, or provide, that men of the highest intellectual or professional equipment must have these powerful positions. The constitution contemplates a representative system, and for the most part, the constitutional intent has been achieved in Wisconsin.

THE MEN

Measured only by their formal educational qualifications, the legislators of Wisconsin have risen in collective quality steadily over the decades of this correspondent's watchful presence in the press gallery.

By that measure, it may be hazarded, the legislature probably is a cut above the state community from which it has sprung.

But the legislature is intended to be a slice of the life of the community, its social and economic and other characteristics, as well as the level of its academic attainment.

It is there that the representative character of the legislature might be "challenged by the meticulous critic. The legislative reference library the other day put out a bulletin on the economic occupations of the legislators who will compose the 75th row planning have put both counties in a situation where either a joint airport must be built with some loss of money already expended in separate facilities or the rivalries will continue with a resultant loss of air traffic and schedules. The proximity of both airports to major cities can be a big danger.

Men of vision too often are regarded as dreamers with no practical ideas. Every so often we should sit back and realize that the majority of progressive advantages of modern living have come from the dreamers who also had the courage and ability to get their dreams into reality.

Senate Democrats rallied to the support of President Truman's program of helping western Europe man its defenses against possible Soviet aggression.

Democrats Pick About Same Leaders

Rueful Look at Last Year's Majority
Produces a Change

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Minority Democrats in the 1961 legislature, trying to reconcile themselves to their reversal of fortunes in last fall's elections, today came up with a leadership slate that produced only one change from the 1959 assembly, when they were in control.

The 45 assembly Democrats, outnumbered by 55 assembly Republicans chose these men as their quarterbacks:

Caucus chairman: Assemblyman George Molinaro of Kenosha, veteran law-maker and speaker of the 1959 Democratic assembly.

Assistant Floorleader: Assemblyman William W. Ward of New Richmond, replacing Assemblyman Allan Flannigan of Milwaukee.

The Democrats also announced that they intend to continue their policy of holding secret party caucuses. The party's caucuses have traditionally been closed, as have the Republican party meetings during most recent history, but there has been some criticism of the practice in the legislature. An editors group recently denounced secrecy in party deliberations and asked both parties to abandon the practice.

The Republican majority caucuses will also be closed, according to present plans, but two years ago when the Republican assemblymen were in the minority they invited reporters to their sessions as a means of drawing a contrast with the habits of their Democratic rivals.

Clear Vote
Molinaro said the vote on the secrecy issue was a decisive one, but he gave no details.

He also said that the Democrats have arranged for a close liaison with their party colleagues in the state senate, and that the Democratic legislative program will await further consultations with Gov. Nelson and the governor's planned messages to both houses during the next few weeks.

Molinaro is a 59-year-old auto plant worker employed by American Motors in Kenosha who is starting his eighth term in the legislature. Huber is starting his seventh term, is 40 years of age, and is employed by a Milwaukee brewery.

Independent Ward
Ward, one of a handful of out-state Democrats who have risen significantly in Democratic legislative politics in recent years, defeated Charles Schmidt of Milwaukee for the assistant leadership role. He is 57 and a lawyer at New Richmond.

Ward has tended to be independent in his views and is regarded as likely to bolt on some of the Democratic party issues including legislative reapportionment which is regarded by members of both parties as unpopular in the thinly settled northern regions of the state.

Democrats decided as a gesture to nominate Schmidt today for the position of speaker of the house, which will be won by Republican Assemblyman David Blanchard of Rock County by an earlier decision of the Republican majority. Democrats also will make token nominations of retiring Assemblyman Keith Hardie of Jackson County for the chief clerkship of the house and retiring Assembly Sergeant Thomas Brown of Waukesha for re-election. The positions will be filled by Republicans Robert Marotz and Norris Kellman of Madison.

Hardie lost his assembly seat when he decided to run for the state senate from the LaCrosse district last fall and failed. He is now a candidate for appointment to the U.S. marshal's position for the western district of Wisconsin, a patronage position that will be controlled by the incoming Democratic national administration.

Job Discrimination Cases Hit New High

MADISON (AP)—A report issued Monday by the Fair Employment Practices Division of the State Industrial Commission said twice as many job discrimination cases were handled in a two-year period ending in 1960 as in the previous two years.

However, the director of the department, Virginia Huebner, said the rise was due to increased enforcement and more discrimination.

Miss Huebner said 146 cases were processed in the later period than in the previous two years. She said the complaint was justified in 90 cases.

Mary Pickford Offers Plan for Aging Citizens

Former Film Star Suggests Central Reference Bureau

WASHINGTON (AP) — "The Irish have a toast that goes: 'May the devil chast you every day of your life and never catch you.' I'm just trying to stay ahead of the devil."

The self-styled "wild Irishman" who said that is Mary Pickford, "America's sweetheart" of a bygone era and still pretty enough at 67 to recapture the title, hands down.

Miss Pickford is here as a delegate to the White House Conference on Aging and she came to work, not to see and be seen. In one of Tuesday's discussion groups she sounded out other delegates on the idea of a central reference bureau in each city for elderly people.

Clearing House
Her idea: In each city there would be one easy-to-remember, easy-to-dial telephone number where elderly people could call whenever they were in any sort of trouble.

"Each community needs a clearing house for information on housing, health, economics and entertainment," she said. "There are so many welfare organizations now that our senior citizens don't know which one to call when they're in trouble."

"A clearing house would eliminate a lot of red tape and it would insure that the people who are in trouble would be promptly helped."

Her idea, or some form of it, may be incorporated into the final recommendations of the conference.

Miss Pickford, who retired from the movies in 1933, has some very definite ideas about the way old folks get treated in this country.

Shameful Thing
"It's a shameful thing," she told a news conference, "that we haven't realized the need of our senior citizens to be assisted. We are from 40 to 50 years behind other leading countries, and we should be looking ahead to the changing times of 10 and 20 years from now."

"Old age in this country has a stigma which must be removed. Our senior citizens are in need of help. They have to battle with inflation, the high cost of living, and prohibitive medical bills. They put a dollar away for their old age, and now they have only 35 cents left."

Kennedy Reported Considering State Man For Revenue Post

MADISON—President-elect Kennedy is considering John A. Gronouski, Wisconsin commissioner of taxation, for the post of U. S. Commissioner of Internal Revenue, it was disclosed today.

State Democratic Chairman Pat Lucey reported that Kennedy telephoned him about Jan. 2 and inquired about Gronouski. Lucey said he recommended the tax commissioner. At the time there were three others being considered for the post but the field now reportedly has been narrowed to Gronouski and one other person.

Gronouski, himself, said he had not been approached directly by Kennedy, and that all he knew about the matter was what Lucey told him.

The 41-year-old Gronouski is a native of Dunbar in Marquette County.

American Specialist Studies Kidney Ailment Afflicting Yugoslavs

NEW YORK (AP)—An American specialist in internal medicine left by plane Tuesday for Yugoslavia to investigate a mysterious kidney disease that has afflicted thousands of Yugoslavs.

Dr. Robert C. Griggs, of the Metropolitan General Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio, said the kidney ailment has been prevalent in the villages of the Sava River Valley about 60 miles west of Belgrade for possibly more than 50 years. The ailment, if untreated, is usually fatal.

Dr. Griggs, whose trip is sponsored by the National Institute of Health, Washington, D.C., said it is believed that lead poisoning may be responsible. It has been learned that millers use lead to fill niches in grain-grinding millstones and it is suspected that the grain is being contaminated and slowly poisoning the inhabitants.

Taxes Top Problem as Legislature Convenes

Senators, where the Republicans again rule, 20-13. Four of the new senators are former Assemblymen.

The 1961 Legislature is the 75th meeting of state lawmakers in Wisconsin history. And it is the first under control of a party politically opposed to the governor.

Major Problems
Against this politically divided background the Legislature will have to cope with problems in these fields:

Conservation—Budget problems have reached a critical point. The department wants substantial point system, stiffer driving laws, hunting and fishing license fee increases, but Nelson and some legislators are opposed. A new fight will be made for a two-dollar park sticker bill. Members of both parties have protested vigorously the deer party permit law.

The governor wants immediate action on classifying state lakes as to use, but the department says it is not ready.

Safety On Highways
Traffic safety—Wisconsin's soaring highway death rates have brought demands for a larger State Traffic Patrol with broader arrest powers and for merger of county and other local traffic enforces. Nelson and Knowles have recommended that the Legislature give a high priority to a full evaluation of the state's traffic safety program.

Nelson said Motor Vehicle Department statistics "prove there's a direct relationship between police operations and accident rates." But he added that when he asked the 1959 Legislature to approve the addition of 144 new State Patrolmen "they heaved me."

Stricter Laws Sought
Stated for introduction—and this year because of population growth, rural areas are opposing the change and are again planning to put forth the view that population should not be the sole basis of representation.

Education—Because of enrollment increases, aids to local schools will soar by 19 million. Educators are fighting for a $30 million increase. The University of Wisconsin and state colleges say they vitally need huge budget increases, but Nelson has said they have failed to convince the public. The newest school district consolidation law is being heavily attacked by rural areas and some cities.

Water Resources
Water resources—A new state agency to regulate this entire field, including port development, would be created by a Legislative Council bill. The bill also would create new local government units with power to tax and to build dams and harbors.

Governmental reforms—Four-year terms for state officers and many other changes have been proposed by a constitutional study group. A legislative study group admitted it tied their hands at a split on a broad revision in county government. A number of citizens have called for a change in the law which allows local officials to raise their own salaries.

Reapportionment—Probably the bitterest political infighting of the session will come on this issue. The head of the Budget Bureau the governor—and the state auditor are in charge of withholding funds from the university system," Twitty said. Those officials were served with Bootle's change and are again planning to put forth the view that population should not be the sole basis of representation.

Tuesday the Legislative Council dropped the whole problem into the laps of the legislators by apparently was the final, crushing blow to the state's 10-year amendment on the grounds that gal battle to bar Negroes from Madison and Milwaukee wards the university.

The unanimous high court ruling was given to Georgia Attorney General. Washington in a last-ditch effort to keep the two Negroes out of new state pay plan, a $63 million typewritten briefs and Cook did not get to appeal personally to the justices.

from closing the doors of the university by U.S. Dist. Judge W.A. Bootle's temporary injunction against cutting off state funds to the school.

The governor protested to Bootle "the sweeping nature of these orders attempting to take over the state legislative and executive processes," but said, "my respect for lawful processes and my oath as governor of the state of Georgia preclude any act of defiance on my part."

Miss Hunter, 18, a sophomore from Atlanta, spent the night on the campus in a two-room suite in a women's dormitory. Crowds gathered outside, some yelling, but a white crowd said later that white girls chatted with the Negro in her room in a generally friendly reception.

Holmes, 19, a former student at Morehouse College in Atlanta, spent the night off-campus in Athens at an undisclosed location.

Legislators Protest
He is not required to live on campus and was told there is no dormitory space available for him.

Leaders of the Georgia Legislature, in session in Atlanta, all many other changes have been proposed by a constitutional study group. A legislative study group admitted it tied their hands at a split on a broad revision in county government. A number of citizens have called for a change in the law which allows local officials to raise their own salaries.

Reapportionment—Probably the bitterest political infighting of the session will come on this issue. The head of the Budget Bureau the governor—and the state auditor are in charge of withholding funds from the university system," Twitty said. Those officials were served with Bootle's change and are again planning to put forth the view that population should not be the sole basis of representation.

Tuesday the Legislative Council dropped the whole problem into the laps of the legislators by apparently was the final, crushing blow to the state's 10-year amendment on the grounds that gal battle to bar Negroes from Madison and Milwaukee wards the university.

The unanimous high court ruling was given to Georgia Attorney General. Washington in a last-ditch effort to keep the two Negroes out of new state pay plan, a $63 million typewritten briefs and Cook did not get to appeal personally to the justices.

Letter Claims Lumumba Treated Badly in Prison

BELGRADE (AP) — Yugoslavia's Communist party paper Borba reported Tuesday a letter smuggled out of prison from the Congo's Patrice Lumumba complained of inhuman treatment.

Borba said the letter was sent to Rajeshwar Dayal, U.N. representative in the Congo. Lumumba complained he was poorly fed, not permitted to leave the cell, denied visits by or information about his wife and in 35 days has not been given any clean clothes.

Borba's correspondent in Leopoldville did not explain how he got the letter.

Reds Cold on Rebirth of Commission

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union reportedly has rebuffed a U.S. suggestion that an international control commission for Laos be revived.

The Soviet rejection was said to have been given Tuesday to Secretary of State Christian A. Herter by Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov.

Menshikov held a 40-minute discussion on Laos with Herter at the State Department. The talk was at Menshikov's request.

Britain has led the move for reviving the commission, composed of India, Poland and Canada. The United States is agreeable provided the commission is acceptable to King Savang Vatthana and the royal Lao government of pro-Western Prince Boun Oum.

The Soviet Union claims the ousted government of Prince Souvanna Phouma, a neutralist who has fled Laos in the civil war, is the legal government.

Kills 2, Wounds 2, Slays Self bullets were fired in Mrs. Pledger's office where she was fatally wounded and her two co-workers were wounded.

After this, police said, Pledger got into his own automobile and drove to Dr. Gregory's office several blocks away.

Inspector Joseph W. Shimon said Pledger walked through the reception room, passed two waiting patients and a cleaning woman, and entered the treatment room.

Inspector Shimon theorized that there must have been a scuffle between Dr. Gregory and Pledger before the physician was shot and killed. Although his residence was in Annapolis, Dr. Gregory maintained an office here.

The indications of a struggle, the inspector said, were a broken wrist watch and eye glasses found on the floor. Several bullet holes were found in the wall near the body of the slain physician.

Police said they are trying to find out what connection Dr. Gregory may have had with Pledger.

As police reconstructed events, Pledger went from the doctor's office to the home of Mrs. Cora Green, 71, a longtime friend.

Mrs. Green said in a statement to police that Pledger told her: "I shot Zelma. I shot Dr. Gregory. . . I shot someone else, but I don't know who."

Mrs. Green said Pledger then left by the front door. Police, who were already on the way to Mrs. Green's home, arrived to find Pledger in a vacant lot fatally wounded.

Baptist Pastor Says Catholics To Take Over U. S.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Dr. W.A. Criswell, pastor of the First Baptist church in Dallas, declared Tuesday night that "it is entirely possible that we might someday live in a Roman Catholic America like that of Spain or Argentina."

Dr. Criswell, speaking before a crowd of 7,500, said that American Roman Catholics and Protestants are locked in a life and death struggle.

He told the Texas Baptist Evangelism Conference that one out of every five persons in America is now Catholic and that the percentage is climbing.

Dr. Criswell, a sharp critic of President-elect John F. Kennedy—a Roman Catholic—claimed the Roman Catholics are dominating all phases of public life in New England and are in a campaign to take over other areas of the country.

He said the Roman Catholic church had gained power by reaching the poor, the immigrants and the families.

"When you control the people you control the vote," he said, "and the destiny of our country."

U.N. Food Unit Sees Shortage in Congo

ROME (AP)—The U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization said Tuesday night 300,000 refugees face a severe shortage of food in the Congo's south Kasai Province.

FAO began a program to provide food and seeds to relieve the famine, caused by tribal fighting, unfavorable rains and a large influx of refugees from other parts of the Congo.

Stockholder Raps FWD Management

Charges Board Chairman Using Firm for His Own Purposes

CLINTONVILLE — Howard W. Stern, 36, of Green Bay, holder of 1,500 shares of FWD Corp. stock, used the announcement of a second year of loss for the corporation as a springboard to launch an attack on the management of the firm by George E. Mallinckrodt, chairman of the board.

Maurice Ash, president, announced to stockholders at Tuesday's annual meeting that the net loss during the last fiscal year was $348,264, or $1.16 a share, compared with $131,755, or 44 cents a share, in fiscal 1959.

He explained the fiscal year had been one of readjustment to strengthen the firm in non-governmental business and expand its operation to avoid cyclical declines this type of business has caused in the past.

However, Stern charged that the loss could be traced to considerable monies paid into a research firm wholly owned by Mallinckrodt and to salaries paid to directors "scattered all over the map" who, Stern said, contributed little to the operation of the firm.

Stern proposed himself as a candidate for a member of the board of directors. He failed to win more than 400 votes beyond his own 1,500. There are over 300,000 shares outstanding.

Stern is president of the Wisconsin State Insurance Agency, Inc., at Green Bay where he has been a resident since 1957. He is a native of Detroit.

case drive line components of the company's vehicles.

Stern's complaint about the salaries of directors centered on a figure of $211,340, which Stern claimed figured out to payments of $150,000 to the directors.

Ash and other directors explained the figure actually represented salaries paid directors and all officers of the firm, not merely Ash and Mallinckrodt, as Stern contended.

Ash said directors not holding office in the firm were paid about $2,000 a year.

Stern also attacked nominees for board membership and posed "a serious question as to whether the board has been handicapped to serve your (Mallinckrodt's) interests or the interests of the corporation."

Centers Attack

He centered his attack on Carl E. Steiger, Oshkosh, and William S. Miller, Mexico City.

He withdrew his objections when he learned Steiger has been associated with FWD for many years and learned of Miller's experience in the foreign export field.

Miller was vehicle marketing manager of export sales operations for Ford Motor Co. since 1956. He operates a public relations, marketing counselling and advertising agency in Mexico City.

Stern said his main objection was that he did not know any of the nominees and had formed his opinions from information contained on the proxy notice.

Picnic Area Planned for County Park

Consultant Lists Plans for Plamann Land for Spring

A series of additions, including picnic facilities and a shelter house, are planned for spring at Plamann County Park, John Gillespie and Associates, park consultant, has announced.

Gillespie is working for the Outagamie County Board in planning use of the 114 acre site on Apple Creek Road just west of Ballard Road.

Sauter and Seaborn, architects, have donated their services and are designing a shelter house to become part of a picnic area. Other donations made to the park thus far include the drilling of a well by Malcolm Veitch, Seymour; $125 for a park entrance; Appleton Kiwanis Club; tree planting; Valley Council Boy Scouts; Co. C 291st Engineers Battalion, stone enddams for road culverts; and Van Handel Sand and Gravel, building a to-boggan slide.

A lookout tower near the picnic grounds, a 25-acre camping site, softball diamond, archery range, hiking trails and winter sports area are to be developed, Gillespie said. The planned picnic area will be near the front of the park. Separate parking facilities will be provided outside the area.

No money has been allotted by the county to carry out projects. Most work has been financed by donations made by interested persons, Gillespie said.

Items still needed at the park, Gillespie said, include a tractor and pickup truck, softball backstop, sports equipment, playground apparatus and play labor.

Bronze plaques will be placed on structures donated by civic organizations or citizens.

FWD Stockholders Elect 4 Directors at Annual Meeting

CLINTONVILLE — Four directors were elected to 3-year terms Tuesday at the annual meeting of the FWD Corp. at the Veterans Memorial Building.

The directors elected were the nominees listed in the notice of the annual meeting of stockholders; however, a fifth nominee was named when Howard Stern, 36, of Green Bay, placed his name in nomination as a director.

Re-elected to the board were Albert W. Merck, New York, and Carl E. Steiger, Oshkosh, whose terms expired. Other directors elected were William S. Miller, Mexico City, Mexico, who has served on the board since Nov. 21, 1960, when the by-laws were amended by action of the board; Louis Yaeger, Clintonville; of directors to increase the number of directors from nine to 10; and Louis Yaeger, New York.

Votes cast were 260,199 for Merck; 259,929 for Miller; 259,999 for Steiger; 261,699 for Yaeger, and 1,970 for Stern. Stern owns 1,500 shares of stock.

At the organizational meeting of the board following the stockholders meeting, Merck was elected vice chairman of the board and Homer Sell was elected secretary. Sell also will continue in his present capacity as treasurer-control.

Previously, Robert A. Olen was vice chairman and secretary. Olen resigned as a director and officer of FWD at the end of 1960.

Directors of FWD in addition to those elected at Tuesday's meeting are Maurice E. Ash, New York; James A. Driesen, Clintonville; George E. Mallinckrodt, St. Louis; William Van N. Washburn, Boston; and Arthur M. Young, Paoli, Pa. Mallinckrodt is chairman of the board; Ash is president and Driesen is executive vice president.

Private Accountants Audit Welfare Funds

Insurance Department Sets Aside
Tradition; Hires Business Firms

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The state department of insurance is retaining privately practicing accountants to audit employee welfare funds of Wisconsin business corporations under the State Supervision Law adopted three years ago.

There are about 1,900 of such funds now registered with the State Department, which by law can order an official state audit at least every five years.

The department requires the accounting firm it hires to submit estimates of the probable total of fees, which are then assessed upon the trustees of the private welfare funds by order of the state insurance commissioner. John Grogan, head of the regulatory unit of the State Department, says there have been some complaints about the costs of such audits but explained that the procedures were worked out in collaboration with a society of professional accountants.

Not Customary

The retaining of private practitioners is a departure from the custom in state regulatory agencies. The Insurance Department maintains its own staff of auditors for its regular insurance supervision work, as do the Banking Department, the Public Service Commission and the other regulatory boards and commissions.

Grogan explained that it is possible for private business firms which regularly provide for audits of their welfare funds to arrange for such audits to serve the purposes of the state also. Typically a private employer is invited to nominate an accountant or an accounting firm in his community to perform the audit for the state, he said, and frequently it is the same firm that is regularly retained by the firm.

He said there has yet been no instance in which the state has objected to the size of the fees charged by the accountants, but he says it is assumed that the state could protest any assessment that it regards as exorbitant and refuse to pass it along to the private employer involved.

He said also that the department will ask the next legislature to liberalize the auditing requirements for very small funds, probably those with fewer than 25 beneficiaries.

AHS Seniors Must Register by Feb. 4
For ACT Test Program

High school seniors who will take American College Testing program exams in February must register for the exams by Feb. 4, H. H. Helble, Appleton High School principal, has announced.

About 200 AHS students are expected to take the 3-hour tests, which will be given Feb. 25 at the high school.

The tests are required or recommended for admission to more than 500 colleges and universities in 23 states, including Wisconsin.

GOP May Review Endorsing Policy

Means to Recommend Candidates In State Used Since LaFollette

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON—The Republican voluntary party organization may be preparing to review its historical practice of endorsing state-wide candidates for Republican nominations in the state open primary elections.

Claude J. Jasper, chairman of the state party committee, has listed the endorsement question in an indirect way on the agenda for the Jan. 19 party committee meeting.

Jasper lists "any constitutional changes" as a topic for discussion. The only significant constitutional change that has been discussed in party circles lately is the rule that in election years a party delegate convention endorses candidates as a means of recommending them for nomination in the party primary.

Others May Compete
Such endorsements do not prevent other candidates from competing for nomination. The practice originated more than 30 years ago when the regular Republicans faced the problem of supporting their candidates in Republican primaries in competition with candidates of the Progressive Republicans, led by the LaFollette family and its lieutenants.

Serves As Recommendation
Since the passing of the LaFollette faction of the party, the GOP leaders have continued the endorsement rule as a means of recommending to the voters, as they have explained it, the aspirants who in the view of the organization are the best qualified for the nominations they seek.

Generally the endorsements have been effective. But there have been enough exceptions to provide a minority view that the practice ought to be discontinued or that multiple endorsements should be substituted.

The constitutional change if it is made must be effected in an

Knowledge of Robert's Rules Essential in Organizations

Democracy may well depend upon how well we run our decision-making meetings.

Call the meeting what you please — the United Nations Assembly, Parliament, Congress, a town meeting, a lodge or a garden club.

For your meeting to work well, people must know how to talk.

For this you need rules to hear all sides fairly, and yet to do work with order and dispatch. Each group can make up its own rules if the members want to. Almost before it does anything else, a new congress adopts its rules, sometimes after a long, hard fight.

Few Changes

But name a candidate for president or go to your PTA, and at your elbow will stand an almost forgotten Civil War general.

People, meet General Robert! In 1876 he first printed 4,000 copies of "Robert's Rules of Order." Since then we have bought nearly 2 million copies. We have changed our rules of order very little since then. And many other excellent books on the subject have come out.

Rules of order go back to the early English Parliaments, indeed, to the Athenian Agora and the Roman Forum.

Tools of Democracy
Name any going concern—your union or professional society or your firm, and there is one thing sure: Its meetings must use some rules of order. Most often the general's.

Let someone sue your group over some action it takes — say, excluding some member, and odds are the court will consult Robert's Rules of Order or some other accepted text to see if you did right.

Truck Driver Seeking To Rid Self of 3 Wives

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla.

(AP)—A truck driver has filed a divorce action seeking to rid himself of three wives he acquired in 7½ years.

Frederick Kennedy, 40, brought the suit Monday. He is scheduled to be sentenced Feb. 3 on a bigamy confession.

Kennedy said he married Juanita

Pruiett, 29, in Omaha, Neb., Dec. 5, 1932; Norma Oliver, 39, April 10, 1939; and Betty Jane King, 37, April 7, 1960. He has never been divorced.

State, Defense Units

Exchange 22 Officials

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State and Defense Departments traded 22 high ranking officials Monday in a move to give the diplomats a better idea of what the military is doing and vice versa. A joint announcement said 11 from each department are being sent to the other on 2-year assignments. Foreign and military policies overlap overseas often overlap. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter suggested the departmental exchange last June.

Charlie Recalls Double Murder Of 1930 in the Golden Pheasant

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

GREEN BAY — The day was May 20, 1930, and the little world of Wisconsin was excited about many things, but the shockingly brutal murder of a man and woman was not to be discovered until tomorrow.

House

Richard Barthelmess and Constance Bennett were starring in "Son of the Gods" at a local theater. The Graf Zeppelin was en route over the Atlantic Ocean in its dramatic round-the-world flight.

Jack Sharkey was readying for the world heavyweight championship fight with Max Schmeling. And Bobby Jones was on his way to win the British Amateur golf crown.

President Herbert Hoover was urging greater safety on the highways of the United States, citing the "terrible toll" of 31,000 traffic fatalities in 1929.

Gangland murders were commonplace in Chicago, and, in Miami, Scarface Al Capone was being harrassed by frequent arrests for such things as "vagrancy."

But in the bedroom adjoining the barroom of the old Golden Pheasant Night Club on Highway 57, town of Preble, two bodies lay undiscovered.

'Most Brutal'

When discovery came, this double murder was to be termed "the most brutal murder in the history of northeastern Wisconsin." The mystery was never to be solved, but it was to excite the people of these communities to talk and to gossip and to rumor-monger for many years.

Mrs. William De Broux who lived next door to the Golden Pheasant was uneasy over the tomb-like silence of the usually bustling night club.

Through the windows of her home she observed the separate arrival of the baker, the meter reader and the milk man and she saw that none of them could get into the night club.

All through that Monday, Mrs. De Broux watched and worried. It was the custom of its owner and his employees to be about and active by at least noon. When Tuesday morning came, Mrs. De Broux asked her son, Martin Verhagen, to try to peep into the windows of the inn.

View of Bodies

Verhagen climbed to the roof of an old street car which was being used on the property as a storehouse. From this vantage point, he saw the horribly battered heads of John Van Veghel, and Lucille Birdsall, a divorcee.

Police quickly theorized that the couple had been shot while in bed, with a heavy gauge shotgun held at point blank range. The theory was dispelled when no shot was to be found, either in the battered skulls or in the room.

A post-mortem showed that the double murder had been effected with a hatchet. It had been swung many times — sharp side, blunt side — and it had been wielded with terrible violence.

A morbid crowd gathered quickly and the police were forced to lock the doors as they made nearly futile attempts to reconstruct the crime.

All ground floor doors were locked, but a trail of blood led from the death-bed to a rear door in the basement. A basement side door had been closed on the outside and braced with a plank. A slot machine had been smashed open and money had been taken. But in the bedroom was a roll of bills, untouched; and in the cash register there was $20.

Woman Awoke

Van Veghel's body seemed almost undisturbed as it lay in the bed. The head only had been the target. Lucille Birdsall had apparently awakened during the attack upon the sleeping tavern owner, and then — so the police theorized — the murderer swung his hatchet at her, time after time after time. Proof of this, they said, was shown on her hands and arms where the death weapon struck as she raised her arms defensively. Van Veghel, said the police, probably never awakened.

In the "funny papers" of the era, Ella Cinders moved philosophically through her daily life, and Boots and her buddies were being insipid and cute as always, and the Nebbs were showing their family foibles, and Freckles and his friends were into mischief as usual.

Here things slowed in the investigation through the tangled skein of a period wherein innkeepers violated, and bootleg whiskey was the only available kind, and Green Bay flourished wildly with undiminished violation of the Volstead laws.

Rumors flew through town. "A payoff," someone said. "Political protection of a mob," said another. "Gangland revenge," said others, for there was unfounded talk of deliberate mutilation of the bodies, of frightened police, of a cover-up for a mysterious man known everywhere in town.

But these things were apparently unfounded in fact. Police investigation moved briskly, following tips which led to nowhere.

A large, heavy man — "tough looking" — was reported leaving the Golden Pheasant between 7 and 8 a.m. Monday. He carried something wrapped in burlap, police were told.

He was seen again, according to another source, between 5:30 and 6 a.m. at Haever's Crossing. But he was never found.

A tan Chevrolet was reported leaving the Golden Pheasant at a strange hour but this lead, like the others, led nowhere.

Waitress' Report

A waitress, Miss Irene Clowry, reported that she had left the inn at 1:30 Monday morning and that Lucille Birdsall had told her that the place would be closed immediately. But no one knows the hour of its closing.

In the basement, police found a blood-stained lather's hatchet.

As Tax Time Nears, Even Certified public accountants can use some advice. Area CPA's here get answers to questions from J. L. Tibbetts, Appleton, state assessor of incomes. From left are Norman Pronold, Green Bay, of the internal revenue service; Tibbetts; Vincent K. Derscheid, Appleton, and Robert E. Stauffer, Oshkosh.

Their thoughts turned to Miss Birdsall's divorced husband, Frank Kupsack of Milwaukee, a lather.

Kupsack returned voluntarily with police, offering his full cooperation. He understood, he said, why he might be suspected. He and his former wife had had ill feelings and it was no secret. But he had spent the fatal day in Milwaukee working on his automobile. Many witnesses corroborated his statements. He was clearly innocent.

The blood on the hatchet turned out to be chicken blood.

An anonymous telephone tip sent police hurrying to a barn near the Elmore School to get "a blood-stained tablecloth," but the cloth was simply one with red figures in it.

Man Trained

Police trailed down a Sturgeon Bay man who had made advances to the Birdsall woman the day before the murders, but he was shown to be innocent of the crime.

Soon the dreadful stories faded, from Page 1 to be replaced by those concerning the flights of the Graf Zeppelin, of plans for the erection of Sidney Bedore's statues, "The Spirit of Northwest" on the courthouse lawn, and other events of the day and the time.

The Golden Pheasant was sold and has now become the Mill Tavern. It stands to this day at 2237 Willow St. And many a customer sits over his food or his drink and recalls the grim murder of May 20, 1930.

John Van Veghel was buried in the Allouez Cemetery, and Lucille Birdsall went to her grave in her home town, Sturgeon Bay, where her secret lays with her—and is known by one other man who has yet to be identified as the perpetrator of one of Wisconsin's most brutal, unsolved, murders.

Warrant Sent To Coast

Green Bay Man Held in California Faces Check Count

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Brown County authorities have forwarded a worthless check warrant against James Suda, 23, Green Bay, who is in federal custody in San Diego, Calif., for interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle. The action will serve as a detainer against Suda.

The sheriff's office reports that the warrant alleges three worthless checks totaling $60. Authorities here said also that he also passed one or more checks in the Oshkosh area about the time he departed for California.

The federal warrant, filed Dec. 16, says that he took the rental car from Oshkosh.

Authorities said that Suda was arrested after two hitch hikers had picked up were stopped driving the car missing from Wisconsin.

Suda was arraigned on the federal Dyer Act in San Diego on Jan. 4. He is in the custody of the U.S. marshal there.

Lawrence Says Bob Kennedy Must Separate Job, Politics

Attorney General
Has Impressive

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON—Of all the cabinet appointments, the one that the Senate will soon debate and examine most carefully before giving its "advice and consent" will be that of Robert F. Kennedy, the nominee for attorney general. Aged 35 and with no record in courtroom practice of law, the younger Kennedy receives the appointment partly as a political reward and partly as the trusted lieutenant of his brother, the President-elect.

What kind of attorney general will he turn out to be? He will make a much better record if he gives up politics.

The department of justice is basically a non-political department of the government, though occasionally there have been criticisms alleging political bias when certain prosecutions were carried on.

Responsibilities
Does the public realize what an attorney general has to do and how important it is for the American people, especially the legal profession, to have confidence in the department of justice? Here are several points to be borne in mind.

1. As top man in the enforcement of federal laws, the attorney general is the chief legal adviser to the president and a member of his Cabinet, in which he ranks fourth.

2. The attorney general furnishes advice and opinion on legal questions to the president and also to the other Cabinet officers when so requested.

3. The attorney general construes the laws under which the executive departments act and furnishes legal counsel in all federal cases.

4. The attorney general directs all suits before the Supreme Court of the United States in which the federal government is concerned. He may appear before the Supreme Court to argue a case of great importance, though this usually is left to the solicitor general.

Recommends Judges
5. The attorney general and his staff review all executive orders and draft legislation desired by the president.

6. The attorney general appears before congressional committees to testify on proposed legislation concerned with law enforcement and the judiciary.

7. The attorney general selects for recommendation to the president the nominees for federal judgeships and also the 91 U.S. attorneys and 600 assistant attorneys throughout the country who are the chief prosecuting officers for the federal government in each judicial district. Congress is being asked by the chairman of the House Judiciary Committee to create 63 new federal judgeships.

8. The attorney general is responsible for the enforcement of all federal laws involving crime.

9. The attorney general enforces the antitrust laws, conducting both civil and criminal suits.

10. The attorney general has complete control of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and may order or discontinue its investigations.

Directs Civil Rights Case
11. The attorney general is responsible for enforcement of the internal revenue laws in all manner of tax cases.

12. The attorney general directs all civil-rights cases involving the federal government, including school desegregation orders of the courts.

13. The attorney general must enforce the labor-racketeering laws, including cases that involve misuse of union funds or extortion of money from employers.

Mr. Kennedy could change the nature of the job of the attorney general. He could make it more of a general managership of a big department and depend on assistants with more experience that he has had in the practice of law to do the legal work of the department.

Young Kennedy is a tireless worker and is reported to be a skillful administrator. He could make a creditable record as the head of the department of justice, despite his lack of experience as a trial lawyer. But will he be judged on the basis of his work in his own department, or will attention center on what he does in the field of politics in behalf of his brother's administration?

The American people do not wish to see politics influencing the judgment of an attorney general any more than they would care to see it affecting the decisions of the secretary of state or the secretary of defense.

If Robert Kennedy abandons all political activities and concentrates on running the Department of Justice impartially, and if he efficiently administers this big department he will be regarded as a good attorney general by the public. But it probably will always be hard to convince the members of the American Bar Association that a president need not appoint a top-notch lawyer to be the attorney general.

Four Bankers Will Attend Conference

Four Appleton bankers will attend the 32nd midwinter conference of the Wisconsin Bankers' Association Jan. 23 and 24 in Milwaukee.

Appleton delegates will be Gilbert J. Relien, vice president of Bankers Association vice president of the Appleton State Bank; Gilbert A. Beglinger, assistant cashier of executive vice president of the First National Bank; and M. E. Olson, cashier, and O. A. Hansen, president, Outagamie County Bank.

Officials of several large Wisconsin companies will speak on business prospects for the state's leading industries in 1961. Speakers include George Romney, American Motors Corp. president; Sam M. Fleming, American First National Bank, Chicago. About 1,000 bankers, wives, and guests will attend the conference at the Schroeder Hotel.

Court Upsets Doctrine Of Immunity Claimed By Charitable Hospitals

MADISON (AP) — The Wisconsin Supreme Court Tuesday abolished the doctrine of charitable immunity which had exempted charitable hospitals from liability for their own negligence.

The court upheld a decision of the Milwaukee County Circuit Court which said that Doctors' Hospital was not exempt from liability under Wisconsin laws. Mary Kojis, in a suit brought by her guardian Anna Fortier, alleged she fell out of bed Aug. 27, 1956 and refracted her hip because the hospital failed to provide guard rails. Doctors' Hospital argued that it was a charitable institution and exempt from liability.

American Jews Spurn Zionist 'Exile' View

NEW YORK — The American Council for Judaism has criticized a suggestion that American Jews should emigrate to Israel as a "matter of national duty."

Clarence Coleman Jr., president of the council, told a news conference Monday. "Our nationality is American and Israel's good."

The World Zionist Council, meeting in Jerusalem, recently urged that Jews throughout the world should go to Israel for their own and Israel's good.

Committee, Park Board To Discuss Tree Laws

Welfare, Ordinance Unit Revises Detailed Proposal for Planning, Control of Plants

The Appleton Welfare and Ordinance Committee is inviting the statement that city intent was to Appleton Park Board to its next meeting for a discussion of proposed ordinances for general tree control and Dutch elm disease or pests.

The committee also has asked that a proposed ordinance regarding the sale of dogs be sent back to the Appleton Board of Health for further recommendation.

The committee Tuesday went over the detailed four-page tree plan ordinance which had been revised once previously from the park board's recommendation.

As it stands now, the proposal would:

1. Direct the park board to develop a plan for orderly planting of trees along city streets.
2. Direct the park board to maintain trees in public places.
3. Require that anyone moving, treating or altering public trees or shrubs have park board order or permission.
4. Make it unlawful to damage, deface or destroy public trees.
5. Allow the city to assess property owners for work done on trees between their land and abutting streets or alleys.

The Dutch elm ordinance would declare trees with the disease fungus or elm bark beetles a public nuisance, and would give the park board authority to inspect trees on private property and to destroy them and to take other action to prevent spread of the fungus or beetles.

The committee eliminated from

There should be no fee for permits under the ordinance, the committee said. A provision relating house movers to get permits from the park board was eliminated from the proposal, because they already need engineering department permits.

Details Omitted

A subsection detailing acts prohibited without permission of tree owners was omitted, and in its place was put a general law against defacing public trees.

The earlier draft would have made it illegal, among other things, to lay a driveway within 10 feet of a tree or shrub or to permit smoke, salt brine, oil or other injurious substances to seep about a tree or shrub without its owner's permission.

The dog sale proposal, which would require dogs sold in the city to be immunized against certain diseases, was described by some as unenforceable. Even so it might be of value to the city, others said.

Funeral Services

MANAWA—Graveside services for Henry J. Morris, 67, Manawa, who was found frozen to death east of Manawa, were at 2 p.m. today at Sacred Heart Cemetery, Manawa. The Rev. Gerald Ilk was in charge. Military rites were conducted by the VFW.

James Retson and Mrs. W. B. Thompson, seated, are congratulated by Richard Reetz after being named winners of the Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce Distinguished Service and Distinguished Citizens awards. Standing at left is Dr. Ernest Strakosch, Oshkosh, who spoke on the African political situation. Reetz served as chairman of the awards dinner.

Altercation Leads to Shotgun Charge Through Window

A 28-year-old man is in the Outagamie County jail today after he had an altercation with a woman acquaintance across the street from his home and shot a charge of buckshot through her front window. No one was injured.

The man had been drinking, Sheriff's Lt. Jack Zuelzke said. He also threatened the woman with a four-inch pocket knife, but was restrained by another man, Zuelzke said. When the man fired the shotgun charge through the window, some 100 pellets shattered the window and about 70 were embedded in a wall. Another woman was sitting next to the window, sheltered by a wall, and was not hurt. The altercation took place on Koehnke's Lane, just west of the Appleton city limits, about 11:30 p.m. Tuesday. No charges have been placed.

James N. Retson, 1409 W. Taylor St., principal of Huntley School, was selected winner of the Jaycee Distinguished Service Award.

Richard Reetz, chairman of the Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce Distinguished Citizens Award for contributions to community welfare, leadership and personal development.

The guests were welcomed by John Powers, Jaycee president. Donald Smith, past president, introduced the speaker.

Airman John D. Prentice, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Prentice, 1006 Adams St., Neenah, stationed at Briggs Air Force Base, El Paso, Texas, was found dead in his off-base apartment Monday, apparently the victim of asphyxiation.

Prentice, assigned to the 95th Ordinance Maintenance Squadron of the 95th Bomb Wing, was found in a bed in the apartment. A gas heater was lighted and the windows were closed.

His wife was said to be visiting relatives in San Antonio, Texas, at the time of the death.

CD Sirens Wake Bay Residents At Early Hour

GREEN BAY (AP)—Several civil defense sirens sounded shortly after 2:30 a.m. today, waking a number of residents who flooded the Police Department with telephone calls.

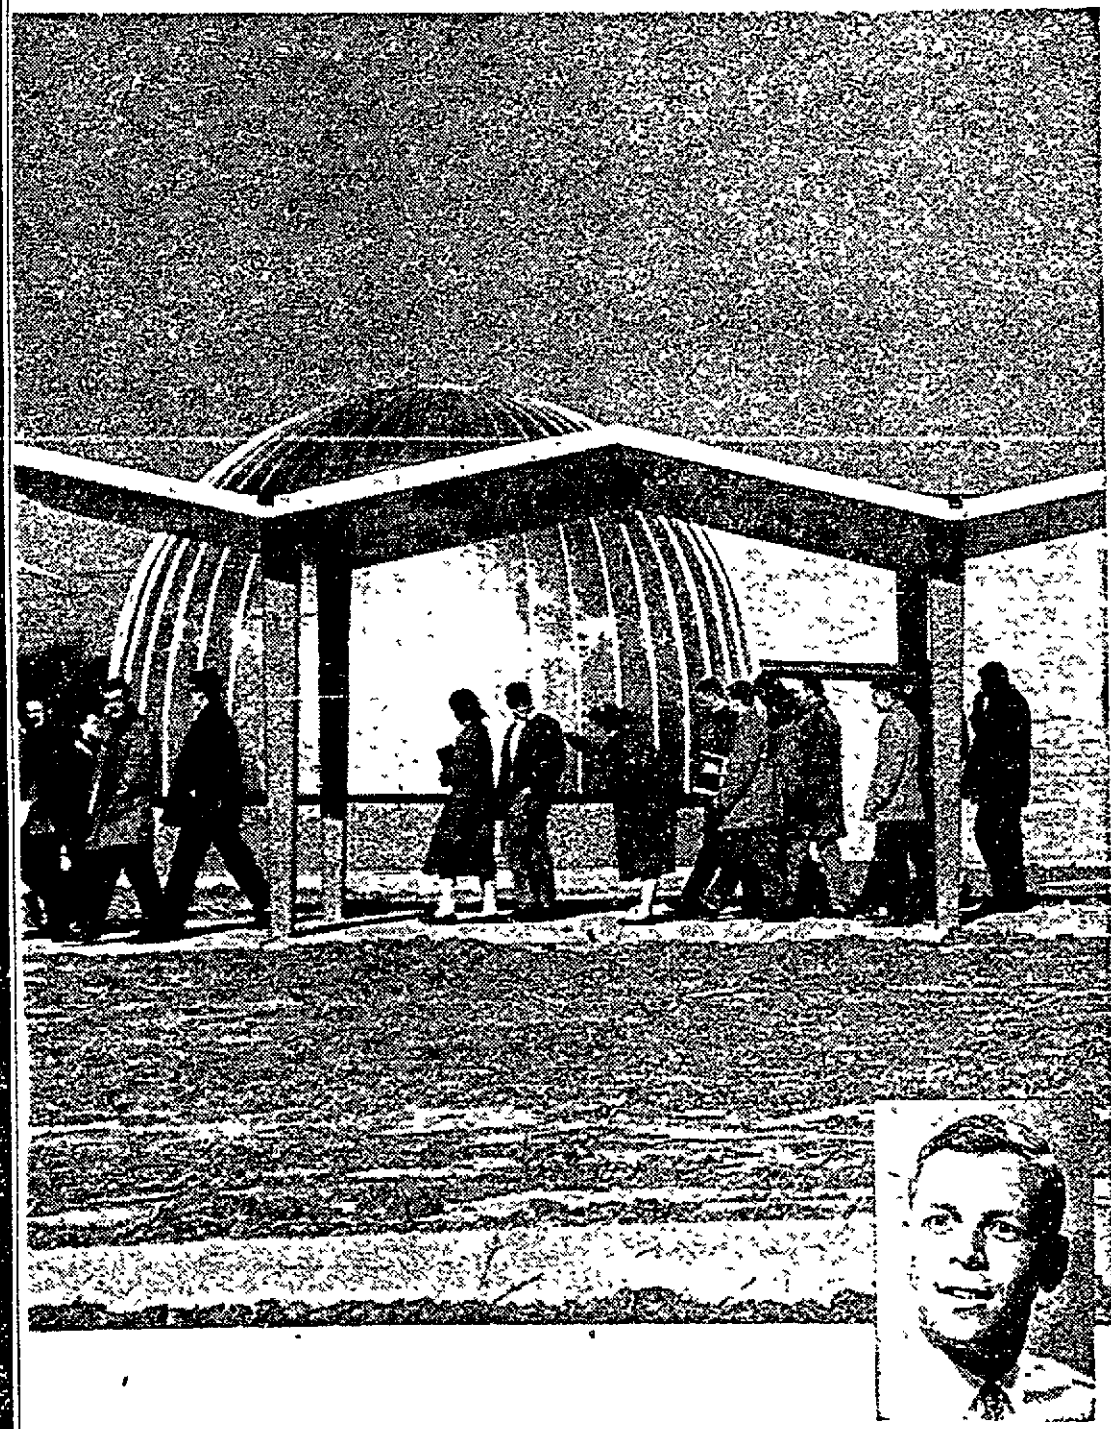

Sirens of the east and west sides of town went off, apparently because of a mechanical failure.

A spokesman for the Wisconsin Telephone Co. said the siren circuits apparently became crossed with circuits for regular telephone calls.

After the sirens sounded several minutes, they were turned off, apparently by automatic equipment.

Kennedy Might Make 87th Meeting 'Welfare Congress'

BY JACK BELL
AP Political Reporter
WASHINGTON (AP) — History may tie the tag of "the welfare congress" on the 87th meeting of the nation's lawmakers if President-elect John F. Kennedy gets his way.

Help for depressed areas, higher teacher pay, more medical care for the aged — these were high in the list of John F. Kennedy's campaign pledges. What will the president-elect do about them after moving into the White House? From a veteran Associated Press political writer, here's an estimate of the broad outlines of the Kennedy legislative program. It's the third of five articles on Kennedy plans and problems.

In advance of its actual submission after his inauguration, Kennedy's legislative program is taking shape as one aimed at bettering the economic and social status of millions of Americans.

While he hasn't laid down any specific priorities, Kennedy has said he wants speedy action on measures to provide medical care for the aged, aid for education, housing, minimum wage and aid for chronically depressed areas.

The president-elect has talked of easing interest rates, revising the labor laws, spurring economic development, and expanding national resources projects.

Tough Opposition
In the controversial field of civil rights he is tied to a platform declaration for congressional passage of a measure to clothe the attorney general-to-be, his brother Robert, with authority to bring federal injunction suits to enforce school desegregation.

This and some other proposals face tough and possibly successful opposition in a Congress the Democrats nominally control but where a coalition of conservatives of both parties has a great deal to say about the final form of legislation.

Outside of Congress, Kennedy has promised executive action to improve the condition of certain segments of the population.

Much Can Be Done
He said repeatedly in the presidential campaign there was much a president could do by the stroke of a pen, such as ending segregation in federal housing programs, furnishing moral leadership and calling a conference of Southern moderates to recommend measures for civil rights progress.

The Kennedy program for aid to education has not taken final form. He supported a bill passed by the Senate in the 86th Congress for a two-year $1.66-billion program for school construction and grants for teachers' salaries.

Fight Minimum Wage
The House passed a four-year increase in the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour, with an expansion of coverage to another five million persons, mostly in the retail trade.

Republicans are lining up their forces to battle an expected Kennedy recommendation for an in-jobs permanently.

Republicans can be expected to contend that a minimum wage program teachers' pay measure remains to boost now may only increase unemployment. They are not alone in their position. For example, a medical care program for the similar position.

Retrain Workers
Kennedy's bill to help depressed areas may carry around $400 million in federal grants and loans, a proposal as a substitute for the state-federal program passed by the last Congress.

It probably will call for retraining of miners, railroad workers and others who have lost their jobs permanently. Kennedy is expected to back a bill geared to spurring new department of urban affairs, to handle mounting problems of city dwellers, as well as some for credit purchases. In the past kind of central agency pointed at these two projects still are in

There is some doubt on the course the new president may take in the complex field of labor law reforms.

The platform on which he was elected pledges the new president to seek repeal of the Taft-Hartley law provision which authorizes states to pass right-to-work laws. But it seems questionable to most observers that this will get a high priority—if any—in the rush to legislate providing broader welfare benefits.

These benefits could include a new department of urban affairs, to handle mounting problems of city dwellers, as well as some for credit purchases. In the past kind of central agency pointed at these two projects still are in

Committee to Get Filibuster Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana was reported today to be about ready to move to transfer a filibuster rule controversy from the Senate to a committee he heads.

Unless proponents of a rule change unexpectedly win a test vote which may come today or Wednesday, Mansfield will ask the Senate to postpone argument on the matter until later in the session and get to work on President-elect John F. Kennedy's legislative program.

House Democrats continued to skirmish on Speaker Sam Rayburn's plans to end the House Rules Committee's power to block legislation.

Most associates think Kennedy will wait until he gets the feel of the presidency and plumbs the economic situation thoroughly before making any such proposals. Speaker's office.

Junior High Dancers Cut a Carpet, Have a Ball, on Friday Evenings

Dances for Appleton's junior high school students are held the first and third Fridays of the month at All Saints Episcopal and First Methodist Churches. The affairs, held throughout the school year, are designed to offer an outlet for youthful high spirits and a healthy channel for growing social impulses.

The Episcopal Church sponsored dance is attended primarily by 7th graders. It is directed by Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Howells and chaperoned each week by four or five couples, usually parents of teenagers who attended the dances. Refreshments are available and music is on records. The small profit has been used to improve the public address system, buy records, and pay janitors for their extra work. The average number attending the dances is about 175. The hall has room for 200, which means that the young dancers have plenty of room to 'twist,' 'lindy,' 'boogie,' 'jitterbug,' as the music demands.

The dances at the First Methodist Church are co-sponsored by the Junior and Senior Methodist Youth Fellowships. Mr. and Mrs. Willard Smith are in charge. Both eighth and ninth grade students attend these affairs. Average attendance is over 400. This somewhat limits the dancers on the fast tunes, but the crowded floor has not cut down youthful enthusiasm.

The Crowd of Dancers at the eighth and ninth grade dance at the First Methodist Church Friday night would have had a little difficulty forming a conga line. Regardless of the crowded floor, however, the popularity of the bi-monthly affairs continues to grow. More than 400 teenagers danced from 7 to 9:15 p.m. Friday.

Even Though they've just started to enjoy a bottle of pop, Mary Rothe and Steve Adams, left, can't resist the toe-tapping lure of a good beat. Here they spin around the floor at the Episcopal Church parish hall.

The Refreshment Stand is a popular place at any social gathering and the dance for seventh grade students at the Episcopal Church is no exception. Mrs. Gladys Treviranus waits on 'customers' Lynn Falcus and Diane Mann.

When the Doors of the Methodist church recreation center open at 7 p.m. to admit eighth and ninth graders to their bi-monthly dance, there's already a crowd on hand. Young people hang up their coats and rush into line to buy their tickets. Karen Rehmer purchases her ticket from Willard Smith.

Skip Volpe Handles the Record Player at the Methodist Church dances. This involves being a combination master of ceremonies and taker of special requests. Many songs are dedicated to teenagers celebrating birthdays or other special events. Making their wishes known are Jean and Joan Schanche.

Husband Is Baby's Legal Dad; Ann Tells Other Man to Get Lost

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Two years ago I started to date a pretty woman who was the book-keeper where I worked. She told me her husband was a nice, but not very lively. She also said he was not able to produce children and that she wanted a fling before they adopted a few.

In January of last year she became pregnant and confessed everything to her husband. I thought he'd come looking for me with a gun but instead he was happy as a clam. He thanked me. He said he could forgive his wife because every woman has a natural urge for motherhood.

A nine-pound boy was born in September and he handed out cigars. The girl has stopped seeing me and I'm just an outsider now. When I ask her if I can visit my son she tells me to leave her alone and to stay out of her life.

After all, I'm the baby's father and I ought to have some rights. Isn't there a law for people like me? Please print your answer. —Ignored Dad

Dear Ignored Dad: Of course there's a law for people like you — and it goes like this: When a married woman has a child her husband is the legal father.

Since you seem to be such a lover of children why not find a nice single girl and start over? The biggest favor you can do for that child is to drop out of sight — for good.

they have wives and families. The married gals here wouldn't think of introducing us single ones to anyone they know.

Newlyweds To Reside In Madison

Miss Linda Meryl Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Williams, Madison, and Michael Francis McCormick, son of Mrs. Herbert Giebisch, 1714 N. Elinor St., and the late Donald McCormick, Kaukauna, were married Dec. 31 at St. Bernard Catholic Church in Madison.

Mrs. Wayne Thomas, Madison, was matron of honor and Miss Mary Ellen McCormick, Kaukauna, and Mrs. Richard Olsen, Madison, were bridesmaids.

Best man was Roger Kloehn, Madison, and groomsmen were Daniel Goggins, Madison, and Alvin McCormick, Kaukauna. Wayne Thomas and Duane Williams, Madison, ushered.

A wedding breakfast and reception were held at Wing's Inn, Madison.

The newlyweds attended the University of Wisconsin. Mrs. McCormick, a graduate of Madison Business College, is employed at Dane County Guidance Center. Her husband is a preparatory salesman for Wheeling Corrugating Co.

The couple will reside in Madison.

work any more. No one would notice if I wore a bikini. The pay here is good but I'm bored stiff with the work and all the people around me. What's the answer? —Rutsville

Dear Rutsville: Anyone who is "bored stiff" can't be doing a very good job. You're wasting your time and probably short-changing your employer. The only difference between Rutsville and Gravesville is the dimensions. Find another job.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband goes over to his sister's house two or three times a week. All they do is drink and argue. I used to go along but I just couldn't stand the fighting so now I stay home and he goes alone.

I know he gets mouthy when he drinks and some of the private things he has told his sister just burn me up. She throws them up to me later in subtle ways and I have to stand there and take it.

Why can't my husband stop going over there? The only break I get is when they have a serious fight and are mad at each other for a few weeks. Please help me. —Griped

Dear Griped: Your husband and his sister are a couple of sick cookies who are still operating at the adolescent level. They fight now just as they did when they were kids. Tell him to get outside help. You might give him to his sister for good.

Angora Beauty

If you were among the lucky girls whose Christmas gifts included a beautiful and soft angora sweater, here's a tip on how to keep it fluffy.

After laundering in cool soap or detergent suds, rinse well, blot in a towel, and spread it flat to dry away from direct heat. Then, shake the sweater carefully three or four times during the drying process. This brings up the nap and prevents matting.

Hold-Up Useful in Suit Play

We all use the hold-up play at no trump contracts, but we sometimes miss it at a suit contract. It has a slightly different function when there is a trump suit, but the play is still very useful.

Opening lead — J

When West leads the jack of diamonds against the contract of four hearts, South should refuse to win the first trick. This hold-up play is necessary to assure the contract.

See what happens if South wins the first trick. He enters dummy with a club to try the heart finesse. West wins with the king of hearts and leads his other diamond.

East is thus put in position to win two diamond tricks. West later gets a spade trick, defeating the contract.

Wins Second Trick

Now see what happens if South holds up his ace of diamonds at the first trick. West leads the other diamond, and South wins.

Declarer enters dummy with a club to try the heart finesse. West wins with the king of hearts, but cannot lead another diamond. East never gets the second diamond trick, for South eventually discards a diamond on one of dummy's spades.

At a no trump contract, the hold-up play is executed to shut out a suit. At a trump contract, the purpose is usually just to save one trick. Even that may be very important.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one diamond, and the next player passes. You hold: S-Q J 6, H-Q J 8 4, D-9 3, C-A K 3. What do you say?

Answer: Bid one heart. If partner shows great enthusiasm for hearts, you will accept a heart contract. Otherwise, you will steer a course for three no trump.

Atop Shuttered Windows

Good looks for a window treatment isn't enough, not if there's a problem of glare or gloom, or of a next door house that's too near. Light and privacy control must decide what goes or doesn't go above the shutters that Mrs. J. J. wants to use on the lower areas of a bay. "Will tuffing to cover the tops of the window frames be enough?" she asks. "Or will the windows be more attractive with curtains?"

Ruffling alone will do nicely. Mrs. J. J., if you want the most possible daylight through the upper glass and it's never seen through from outdoors. But if light is sometimes too strong or the whole window is better covered at night, add curtains. Make a pair for each window and any section of glass can be covered or uncovered as light changes. If you use curtains, set the rods and hang the shutters so the sides of the window frames will be covered.

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms—tiny parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To control Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W Tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Pair Weds in Kaukauna Ceremony

Miss Janice M. Mainville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Mainville, 320 Dixon St., Kaukauna, became the bride of James Edward Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Parsons, route 3, Chilton, at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The Rev. John McLaughlin officiated at the double ring ceremony and nuptial high mass at St. Mary Catholic Church in Kaukauna.

Miss Barbara Mitchell, Kaukauna, was maid of honor and Miss Sandra Busse and Miss Lynn Mainville, sister of the bride, both of Kaukauna, were bridesmaids.

Richard Parsons, Chilton, was his brother's best man and another brother, Roger, was groomsmen. James Hamilton, Appleton, cousin of the bride, and David Hemauer, Chilton, shared ushering duties.

A dinner and reception were held at VFW Hall in Kaukauna. After a wedding trip through the central states, the couple will reside at route 3, Chilton.

The bride is a graduate of Kaukauna High School and is employed in the main office of Kimberly-Clark Corp. Her husband graduated from Stockbridge High School and is employed as a mason.

GRANDMOTHER GIVES PARTY

I have invited nine of my granddaughter's friends to a luncheon to celebrate her 12th birthday.

The party will be at our country club. Instead of eating with the youngsters, do you think it would be better for me to lunch at another table with a club member?

Miss Davis: If so, and if I approach the girls' table while they are eating, are the girls expected to rise?

Louise Davis Answers:

I think that it would be excellent training for the girls to have you at the table. When exposed to older people, children are more apt to watch their manners. They aren't likely to get noisy or obnoxious and at the same time they can enjoy themselves just as much.

If you are present, you can help to encourage any shy or reticent children to relax, especially with 12-year-olds who are at an awkward age. However, if you make it a twosome with a club member and approach the girls, they would instinctively rise if they are well brought up young ladies who have been taught respect for their elders.

To avoid the simultaneous moving of 10 chairs, you could cover up nicely by saying as you approach, "Please don't rise. I'll excuse myself for a moment and I'll be right back." If some little girl hadn't been taught to rise, she might get her larkin right then and I'll wager that she'd never forget the experience. Or you might even tell the girls before they sit down that, "I'm going to let you enjoy your luncheon without me, but if I happen to come to the table later, I'll excuse you if you don't rise."

Combine Fabrics

The Pattullo-Jo Copeland collection also made much of fabrics, especially in playing one against another in the same dress: crepe in front and pure silk taffeta in back, for example. In a black and white plaid worsted ensemble, the dress' waist tie and jacket lining were lilac silk.

Jo Copeland likes skirts slim, but with movement. She likes jackets for spring not to have a closing, especially, she says, when the dress underneath is too pretty to hide.

Stain Resistance

Stain-resistant finishes, applied to fabric as well as to plastic table "linen," eliminate special pre-treatment before washing in or with soap or detergent suds.

Our Children Children Must Learn to Stand Up to Laughter

BY ANGELO PATRI

John Henry came home from school in bad temper. He threw his books down on the table, his odd pronunciation. But they did laugh, and John Henry, being at the age when such laughter is like a slap in the face, was hurt. Still John Henry should not have given up like that. He should have laughed with them. But he couldn't just then.

John Henry, and Lulubelle too, must learn to face down the laughter and the taunters, and the belittlers now in the days of youth. They will always be there, even down to old age. It makes them feel so big, so smart, so superior to laugh at someone who is doing, or trying to do, what, in all probabilities, they couldn't do any better, if at all. They need to feel superior to somebody in order to help themselves to feel less like failures. Secretly they know how weak they are, how insecure, so they laugh to give themselves a false lift.

Teacher's Fault

It won't help John Henry much to tell him these truths, but in time, he will grow a tougher shell and let the derision of the crowd slide off him. But how about the teacher who laughs at a pupil's mistake and so encourages his classmates to laugh with her? Nobody is amused by her mistake. Everybody bemoans it and hopes she will, in time, arrive at a better understanding of her place in a schoolroom.

Meantime, John Henry and Lulubelle, stand up to the laughter. Laugh at yourself, but don't give up in the face of the crowd's jeering. That way you join the failures. The other way, you win.

Engagements Are Announced

BRILLION — Planning a fall wedding are Miss Elizabeth Klug and Jerald Lee Boettcher. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Klug, Morrison, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Boettcher, Brillion.

The young people are graduates of Brillion High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Koerth, route 1, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Sandra Ann, to Kenneth P. Schusel. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schusel, Manitowoc.

Washable Wool

An advertising campaign to announce that a line of patterned, 100 per cent virgin wool shirts is machine-washable is a vivid example of consumers' interests in the sixties.

With Spring but a few snowflurries away, your fashion thoughts are sure to "sue" the season when the voice of the turtle is heard in the land. Lucky is the lady who can sew, especially when she has the internationally renowned Irene Gilbert of Dublin to do the designing. This jacket has a flattering easy cut, tapering gradually inward to the hipbone. The underarm gusset extends to the lower edge, forming the side section. Slot-seaming finishes off the shoulder yoke and the front darts, and is repeated on the front panel of the slim high-rise skirt. Suggested fabrics are: rayons and silks, shantung, wool crepe, lightweight woolsens, linen, pique, plain or printed cottons. From these corresponding body measurements, select the one size best for you. Our sizing is comparable to ready-to-wear sizes.

Size 12 requires 1 1/2 yards of 54 inch fabric for jacket and 1 1/2 yards of 39 inch lining fabric. 17 1/2 or a tank heavily planted with bushy vegetation. This allows the youngsters to escape. Once the 329, send $1.00; skirt pattern No. NS-330, send 50c. State size.

Pair Weds in Kaukauna Ceremony

Miss Janice M. Mainville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Mainville, 320 Dixon St., Kaukauna, became the bride of James Edward Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Parsons, route 3, Chilton, at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The Rev. John McLaughlin officiated at the double ring ceremony and nuptial high mass at St. Mary Catholic Church in Kaukauna.

Miss Barbara Mitchell, Kaukauna, was maid of honor and Miss Sandra Busse and Miss Lynn Mainville, sister of the bride, both of Kaukauna, were bridesmaids.

Richard Parsons, Chilton, was his brother's best man and another brother, Roger, was groomsmen. James Hamilton, Appleton, cousin of the bride, and David Hemauer, Chilton, shared ushering duties.

A dinner and reception were held at VFW Hall in Kaukauna. After a wedding trip through the central states, the couple will reside at route 3, Chilton.

The bride is a graduate of Kaukauna High School and is employed in the main office of Kimberly-Clark Corp. Her husband graduated from Stockbridge High School and is employed as a mason.

GRANDMOTHER GIVES PARTY

I have invited nine of my granddaughter's friends to a luncheon to celebrate her 12th birthday.

The party will be at our country club. Instead of eating with the youngsters, do you think it would be better for me to lunch at another table with a club member?

Miss Davis: If so, and if I approach the girls' table while they are eating, are the girls expected to rise?

Louise Davis Answers:

I think that it would be excellent training for the girls to have you at the table. When exposed to older people, children are more apt to watch their manners. They aren't likely to get noisy or obnoxious and at the same time they can enjoy themselves just as much.

If you are present, you can help to encourage any shy or reticent children to relax, especially with 12-year-olds who are at an awkward age. However, if you make it a twosome with a club member and approach the girls, they would instinctively rise if they are well brought up young ladies who have been taught respect for their elders.

To avoid the simultaneous moving of 10 chairs, you could cover up nicely by saying as you approach, "Please don't rise. I'll excuse myself for a moment and I'll be right back." If some little girl hadn't been taught to rise, she might get her larkin right then and I'll wager that she'd never forget the experience. Or you might even tell the girls before they sit down that, "I'm going to let you enjoy your luncheon without me, but if I happen to come to the table later, I'll excuse you if you don't rise."

Combine Fabrics

The Pattullo-Jo Copeland collection also made much of fabrics, especially in playing one against another in the same dress: crepe in front and pure silk taffeta in back, for example. In a black and white plaid worsted ensemble, the dress' waist tie and jacket lining were lilac silk.

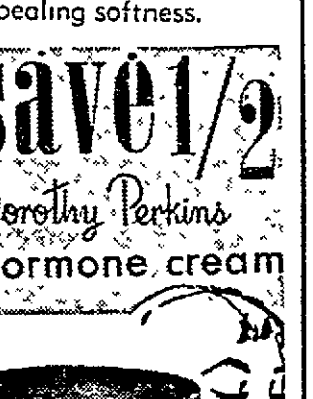

Jo Copeland likes skirts slim, but with movement. She likes jackets for spring not to have a closing, especially, she says, when the dress underneath is too pretty to hide.

Stain Resistance

Stain-resistant finishes, applied to fabric as well as to plastic table "linen," eliminate special pre-treatment before washing in or with soap or detergent suds.

Princess' Marriage to Commoner Swells Circle

BY HELICK O. HAUSEN

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Princess Astrid joins Europe's widening circle of royalty-commoner couples tomorrow morning when she marries Johan Martin Ferner, a divorced haberdasher, before an altar banked with white lilies.

Skiers will lead a post-wedding procession along a road lined with flaming torches, adding to the pageantry of a romance that once had Norway in an uproar.

More than a dozen princes and princesses from five countries will be among 550 persons inside the village church at Asker, 15 miles west of Oslo. Then 200 guests will attend the wedding reception at Skaugum, the country estate of King Olav V half a mile away.

Other Princesses

Among them will be two other princesses who chose husbands from outside the coterie of royalty — Princess Margaret of Britain and her husband, Antony Armstrong-Jones, and Princess Ragnhild, Astrid's older sister, who married a wealthy shipowner in 1953.

Floodlights have been set outside the church and a blue and white canopy shields the entrance. Dozens of reporters will be stationed a few steps from the doors in a partly built crematorium. King Olav has refused live television coverage but the ceremony will be broadcast by radio to 3½ million Norwegians.

Astrid, 28, is a blue-eyed blonde of statuesque proportions. She will wear a simple gown of tulle, silver-worked lace and silk organza.

Miss Karen Niemuth June Wedding Planned by Engaged Pair

The engagement of Miss Karen Niemuth, 1708 S. Oneida St., to Joseph James Parker, Jr., son of the senior Mr. and Mrs. Parker, 604 Keyes St., Menasha, was announced at a dinner party Dec. 18 at Skall's Colonial Wonder Bar by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Niemuth, 316 S. Waller Ave.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Appleton High School and is employed at the Institute of Paper Chemistry. Her fiancé graduated from Menasha High School and works at Bergstrom Paper Co.

A June 17 wedding is being planned.

za when she meets her 33-year-old bridegroom.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bahre, wife of a Swedish businessman, will be her matron of honor. The bridegroom, part owner of an Oslo men's clothing store, chose his brother Finn as best man.

The bridal couple has long been sailing companions. It was yachting, in this northern land of sports lovers, that first brought them together nine years ago.

The wedding tomorrow climaxes a long and often frustrating romance for Astrid Maud Ingeborg — the princess' full name. Her relationship with Ferner, divorced in 1955 after four years of marriage and no children, began to flower in 1953 when he signed as a crewman on her boat Astrata. Together they won several regattas.

When the king announced the engagement last November, Norway's Evangelical Lutheran clergy opposed the marriage because the quiet, unassuming Ferner is divorced. Bishop Johannes Smemo, Primate of Norway, was not asked to officiate at the rites. He said he would have refused if he had been. Bishop Arne Fjellbu, a personal friend of the royal family, will marry the couple.

Lose First Lady

The fears of everyday Norwegians also clouded the stormy romance. They thought they would lose their first lady, the role Astrid has filled since her mother, Crown Princess Martha, died six years ago.

The Crown Princess Martha and her children lived on an estate near Bethesda, Md., during the Nazi occupation of Norway. Princess Astrid made several visits to the United States again after returning here.

It was always assumed that Crown Prince Harald, 23, and a student at Oxford, would marry before his sister and thus make his own wife Norway's first lady. After tomorrow, the bride's title will be Princess Astrid, Mrs. Johan Ferner—with no mention of "her royal highness."

She probably will resume some of her public duties as a princess later.

Aristocracy Gone

Norway has had no aristocracy since the peerage was abolished in 1814. But a Socialist newspaper, commenting on the engagement, said it objected "to half-princes trailing our royalty everywhere."

Another paper said of the engagement: "We grieve but we do not judge."

Public criticism was so strong that King Olav cut out entirely Princess Astrid's appanage—her royal endowment. But he did give her as a wedding gift the Skaugum residence the wedding party will go to from the church.

The 2-story villa, built of brick and wood in 1937, stands on almost an acre of land covered with fruit trees in a fashionable district. It has five bedrooms and two baths.

Schools Turn Over Land Problem to City

Disposal of Territory Up to Council Now

KAUKAUNA — The Board of Education Tuesday evening turned the problem of disposal of property acquired over seven months ago in annexation procedures with School District No. 8 over to the common council.

The board has been troubled with the situation for many months, having acquired a frame school building on a lot 50 by 70-foot in the Town of Vandenberg, and an acre of land surrounding this property. The board owns the smaller lot outright, but the deed on the acre requires this land to be returned to the owners or owners heirs when no longer used for school purposes.

This acre was deeded the district almost 100 years ago thus the original owners have died and their heirs, number unknown, have scattered. Buyers interested in the small lot on which the school stands, also want the acre of land. The school board has no use for the property and asked the city attorney for help in clarifying the situation.

The attorney ruled it is the obligation of the city to dispose of this property, money derived from the transaction to be returned to the school board. Thus the board of education rid itself of a problem, but indications are it will be tossed back into the lap of the city attorney.

Honor Bids

A letter was read from an Eau Claire supply firm indicating that firm could not supply work tables and utility tables as accepted on bids by the board last month due to a jurisdictional dispute. The board authorized the superintendent to write the firm demanding they honor their bid as the difference between their bid and the next lowest bidders would be over $100.

The board received one bid for plumbing work at Park and Nicolet School kitchens and postponed action until additional proposals are received.

A committee was authorized to continue study into the teacher liability insurance situation and board members took under study pay increases for clerical help.

The superintendent was authorized to begin searching for a secretary to replace one resigning within a few months.

Jerome Coenen, 44, was hired as a floating janitor to work between various schools. He will be placed on a 6-month probationary period. Approval was given to the purchase of a tester kit to test efficiencies of school boilers and taken under study was a request for a condensate pump for a boiler and a combination tractor plow and lawn mower for school use.

175 Teenagers Attend Dance to Aid Polio Drive

KAUKAUNA — Over 175 teenagers from Kaukauna, Green Bay, Menasha, Appleton, Kimberly and Little Chute joined in the record hop to benefit the March of Dimes at the VFW hall Sunday.

Bill Woods assisted by Dick Verfurth, Clayton Spaulding, Roland Geurts and Robert Grawatch had charge of the VFW sponsored event. All proceeds went to the local polio drive. Records and sound system were donated by Lindy's TV and Radio Service.

Letters have been mailed to 4,800 city and area village residents urging contributions. These were stuffed, sealed and addressed by a group of young men from the Kaukauna Ghost Rods and Custom club. The work took over five hours.

Plans are nearing completion of the "toll bridge for polio," the next major special event.

245-628 Lead League

KAUKAUNA — Bill Mitchler pounded a 245 game and a 628 series to take honors in the Knights of Columbus Bowling League at the Bowling Bar.

Other honor counts were hit by Bill Landremann, 235; Leo VandeLoe, 571; Father Donald Marquardt, 235, 603; Gene King, 233, 622; Bernie Van Zeeland, 576; Rich Timmers, 235, 556; Gene Schuh, 609; Chris Wildenberg, 562, and Tom Abel, 225, 564.

Homemakers Learn About Health From YMCA Director

KIMBERLY — "Health Through Physical Fitness" was demonstrated by John Bartmann, physical education director at the Green Bay YMCA, and his assistant, Mrs. Verge LaReau.

An acrobatic demonstration was given by Robert Schetter and his five children from DePere.

Members were informed the names of 95 youngsters who had successfully completed a baby-sitting clinic have been placed on file and are available to anyone in the village desiring a qualified sitter. Information can be had by calling Mrs. Clarence Kilsdonk, Mrs. Donald Romenesko, Mrs. Richard Hoolihan.

First Career Day Held at St. John High School

LITTLE CHUTE — The first career day was held at St. John High School Tuesday with students learning about different vocations by attending from two to five various sessions.

Speakers were arranged in several categories. The entire program was arranged by the Kiwanis Club with Joseph Vandenberg and William Fitzpatrick in charge in cooperation with the Future Teachers of America Club and the College Preparatory Club of St. John School. Student co-chairmen were Patricia Gloudeman and Thomas Noffke.

A buffet luncheon was served the 16 speakers with Jane and Jacqueline Hietpas acting as hostesses. Talks were given on various professional, skilled and unskilled jobs.

Mother Mary Albertine, O. P., making an official visit of the convent and school, spoke on the great need for more teachers in the parochial schools of the nation. She is Mother General of the Racine Dominicans from St. Catherine's Convent, Racine.

The Rev. Roy Mollen, son of the president of the Little Chute Bank, a Salvatorian Father, gave senior boys a birdseye view of the world, especially in foreign countries.

Sister Mary Pulcheria, a Franciscan nun from St. Elizabeth Hospital, talked on nursing and related jobs open to boys and girls. Other representatives were E. J. Mollen, banking; Robert Hartjes, insurance; Dr. R. F. Scherzinger, optometry; Dr. Elmer Hoffman, dentistry; Dr. F. X. Van Lieshout, medicine; Gerard Van Hoof, law; Robert Beaugrand, Thilmany Paper Company; Joseph Vandenberg, wire weaving; Marcel Lamers, Badger Northland; Richard Kuehn, Joseph Sylvester and Mrs. Margaret Beford, telephone company; and movies were shown about a career in the Air Force.

Students Working Responsible for introducing guests were Janice Jansen, Roy Vandenberg, Roy Gerrits, Joan Walpin, Karen Van Zeeland, Grace Bongers, Judy Draheim, Pat Gloudeman, Tom Noffke, Kathy Driessen, Judy Hantschel, Duane Hietpas, John Wildenberg, and Robert Verkuilen.

Others included Thomas Ebben, Janet Hietpas, Darlene Vandenberg, LuAnn Schuler, Mary Ingenthron, Alice Pritzl, Walter Verhagen, Geraldine Watry, Jacqueline Berben, Jim Diederick, John Wildenberg and Donald Spierings. Caterers were Audrey Peeters and Linda Hammen.

Receptionists were Judy Liebergen, Mary Jill Helf, Claire Bongers, Marian Salm and Carol Roy. At the conclusion of the day-long program, seniors were heard discussing the event and expressing sorrow similar programs had not been adopted earlier which would have helped them select subjects in high school in line with careers in which they were interested.

218-362 Lead Teenage Loop

KAUKAUNA — Ron DeBroux rapped a 218 game and Lindy Kemp hit a 2-game series of 362 to lead the Teenage Recreation Bowling League at the Bowling Bar.

Man in Prison Wins Right to Serve as Mayor of Georgia City

MACON, Ga. (AP)—A man serving a federal sentence in another state has won the legal right to continue as mayor of a Georgia city.

Superior Court Judge A. M. Anderson said Monday Kemp A. Harrison's conviction of conspiracy to defraud bank depositors does not disqualify him as mayor of Warner Robins.

Harrison easily won re-election on Nov. 8, eight days after he began serving a sentence of a year and a day in a federal correctional institution at Tallahassee, Fla.

Five residents of Warner Robins, site of a large Air Force base, then brought action in court seeking to oust the mayor.

Committee Defends Present Bus Stops

Use for Parking Would Have Little Effect, Council Safety Unit Says

Members of the City Council Public Safety Committee Tuesday defended the location of bus terminals in downtown Appleton and the use of women as guards where school children cross busy streets.

The committee also approved requests for replacement police cars, fire alarm system materials, bicycle licenses and other purchases; referred a downtown fire station site offer to the Board of Public Works; discussed terminals at Lawrence and Oneida Streets; and scheduled two special meetings.

Ald. Austin Tucker had asked the committee to study and recommend whether the bus terminals on Appleton and Oneida Streets near College Avenue should be relocated.

The terminals take up a block of space that might be used for parking, Tucker said.

Claim Public Interest Committee members said the terminals are in the public interest, because buses wait there in order to keep on schedule and many people get in and out of buses and private cars there. A dozen more parking stalls would make little difference when the city is so short of space already, they said.

There's a difference between the two terminals and the bus stops on College Avenue, it was pointed out. Fewer people get on and off at the avenue stops. If the terminals were eliminated, buses would block streets designed to move traffic smoothly and rapidly. College Avenue is primarily for parking and shopping, while Lawrence and Washington are for carrying traffic through the area, it was explained.

Ask Guards' Raise A 10 cent hourly raise for the 17 school crossing guards was recommended by the committee. If the raise goes through the finance committee and city council, the guards will get $1.45 an hour. In Neenah, guards get $1.40; Menasha, $1.47; and Green Bay, $1.35 and asking $1.50.

A visiting alderman asked why some of these guards couldn't be replaced by automatic signals, such as the one at Columbus School on Oneida Street. The guards can better keep traffic moving when the number of students crossing at one time varies greatly, committee members said. The guards work conscientiously and have the confidence of children, they added.

Traffic Lt. John Gosch is to report to the committee on the possibility of using signals at some of the school crossings, and also on the traffic at Oneida and Lawrence, where a flashing red light instead of traditional stop sign had been suggested.

Site Offered Justin F. Tillman offered 46,000 square feet of land bounded by Superior, Packard and Clark streets and the Chicago and North Western Railroad tracks, including buildings, at $2 a square foot. The site would be big enough for drill grounds as well as a fire station, Chief Alfred Arnold said.

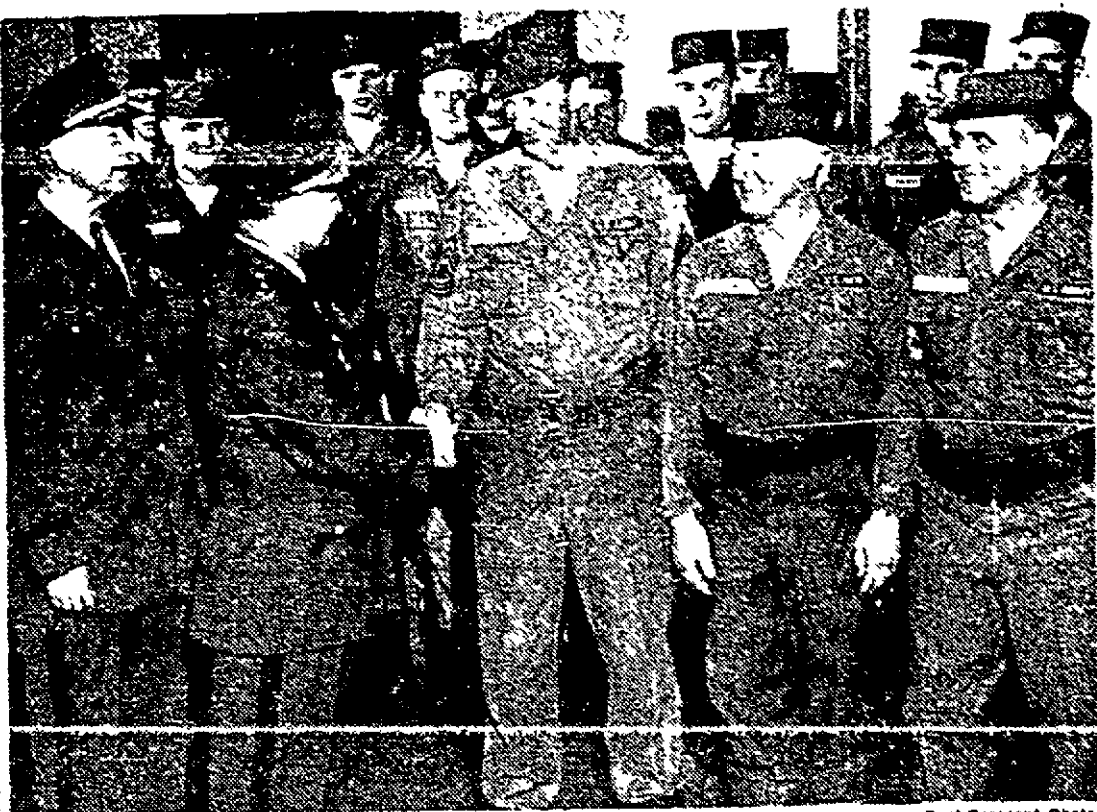

The safety committee recommended that all three fire inspectors work days, rather than alternate 24-hour shifts. A 25 cent hourly raise for the fire department's clerical worker was recommended.

The committee asked the Board of Public Works to advertise for bids for four squad cars, on which four present cars will be traded in, and for a compact car to replace a motorcycle for radar equipment.

Approve Purchases Also approved were requests for cable and other materials for the new northeast fire station, $1,350 worth of bicycle licenses and other items.

The committee will meet with the Appleton Rifle Club Monday night to discuss possible purchase of a police pistol range, which the city rents from the club. Tuesday at Appleton Elks Club, the city rents from the club. Dr. Fitzgerald is past president of the American Dental Association, and present chairman of its council on dental education.

Blame for Killing Falls on Lover

Victoria Fritz Told Police Three Versions of Murder Plan

OSHKOSH — Much of the new James Williamson brought blame for the May 13 killing of out.

Marlyn Fritz, 37-year-old husband of Victoria, 31, was placed on Victoria's 18-year-old lover, Francis Clayton, cross examination of key witnesses showed in Winnebago Court today.

Victoria changed her story of the killing of her husband three times, Police Inspector Elmer Ludwig testified. Two occasions were the morning after the shooting in the couple's Oshkosh home, the third 10 days later in the Winnebago County jail.

Clayton is under treatment in Central State Hospital, Waupun. Warned Husband Mrs. Fritz's last statement to police in jail indicated that Clayton told her the morning of the shooting that "This is the day" and that he wanted Marlyn "done away with," Ludwig recalled.

The woman stated that she once planned to take her own life, "but did not have the nerve." She also told police that when she warned her husband that Clayton was going to shoot him, Marlyn replied, "he hasn't got the guts," Ludwig testified.

After the shooting, Victoria told police that she and Clayton talked over what to do with the body and Clayton suggested leaving Marlyn's body by the Outdoor Theater or at the north end of Oshkosh, Ludwig said. Clayton dismembered cutting up and burning the body, Mrs. Fritz told police, or taking it away, testimony showed.

Agreed To Tell Police Mrs. Fritz wanted to call police, Ludwig said she told police, but Clayton objected. Later, the pair agreed to call police so the body would be found and the couple could leave after selling the home furniture, Ludwig said.

Ludwig said Mrs. Fritz stated the day after the murder that she wanted her husband dead because he had been drinking and beating her, that she and Clayton planned to kill Marlyn and she bought a knife for Clayton because he liked them. Mrs. Fritz also said she convinced the youth he should come back to Oshkosh from a Waupaca County farm where he worked for a time.

Worried About Children Victoria said she was worried about the safety of the couple's children and had gone along with Clayton's plans, Ludwig said under cross examination. Mrs. Fritz bought shells which killed Marlyn so that her husband could go hunting and at one time told Clayton she did not want her husband killed, Ludwig added.

Ludwig agreed that the reason for her inconsistencies were due to Clayton's threats to Mrs. Fritz and her children, defense attorney by Clayton. This is not to say she is entirely blameless."

Mrs. Fritz, the defense attorney continued, is a product of a broken home and has had four stepfathers. She has never known anything but abject poverty, he said, as he urged the jury to keep her marital misconduct in its proper perspective.

"When Victoria Fritz fully realized Clayton actually was going to shoot her husband, she would have nothing to do with the plot. She even tried to take him out of the city and away from the area with her children. Ironically, it was her husband and his brother that stopped her."

Warned Husband "On that day she warned her husband Clayton was going to shoot him but he didn't believe her," the defense attorney stated.

Testimony was taken Tuesday on the results of the autopsy by Dr. H. M. Hillenbrand, Mercy Hospital pathologist, and the results of the police investigation. The testimony of seven policemen and Coroner Dr. G. A. Steele brought out the happenings of the morning after her telephone call to police.

Policemen testifying were Lyle Miller, desk officer who took her telephone call, Robert Nicholl and Donald Weber who were sent to the scene, Sgt. Earl Disch, Capt. William Gonyo, Detective Joseph Weber and Inspector Ludwig.

They testified that Mrs. Fritz said someone must have come into the house that night and shot her husband while he was sleeping.

Twine Saver Now Has Seven Miles of Cord

NOKOMIS, Ill. (AP)—Jim Tosetti, a post office employee, started saving twine four years ago and estimates he now has about seven miles wrapped in a ball weighing more than 53 pounds.

Tosetti says he is often asked what he plans to do with the string. "I usually say that when I retire I'm going to start unrolling it at the post office and live at the point where the string runs out."

Work Out Dog's Name in Puzzle, Win Stamp Packet

BY CAPPY DICK

Calling all young stamp collectors!

Today you have a chance to win a packet of 100 all-different world-wide postage stamps.

If you are a stamp collector, this prize can provide you with many good additions to your album. If you are not yet a collector, but want to begin, this packet of 100 stamps will be just the thing to give you a start.

Five packets will be awarded as prizes in today's name-the-dog puzzle contest, one to each boy or girl who sends in one of the five most nearly prepared correct solutions to the puzzle in the picture above.

The problem presented by the puzzle is to discover the four-letter name of the dog in the picture. This can be done by filling the four blank spaces in the diagram of words so that you complete four words. If you use the correct letters, the four that you print in the blank spaces, when read from top to bottom, will spell the dog's name.

Here are clues:

The letter to use in the top blank will complete a four-letter word meaning something landlords do.

For Row No. 2, supply one letter to complete a word that is good to eat.

In the fourth row print a letter forming a word that is something done with a ball. The Prima Ballerina Lois Smith and premier danseur David Adams head the cast of the National Ballet of Canada which will appear in Appleton Sunday, Jan. 22, at an afternoon performance. This is the second program in the Variety Theater series sponsored by the Appleton Gallery of Arts. The matinee performance is scheduled for 3 p.m. in the Appleton High School Auditorium.

Canadian Ballet to Perform in Appleton

Afternoon Program Scheduled for Jan. 22 at High School Auditorium

The 75-member company of the National Ballet of Canada will present the second program of the Variety Theater season in Appleton under sponsorship of the Appleton Gallery of Arts.

The single performance will be at 3 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 22, in the Appleton High School Auditorium. Reserved seats for this performance and the next two programs may be obtained at the ticket office in Newman's College Avenue store. Fred Waring and His Pennsylvanians will appear March 9 and Carmen Cavallero March 19.

The Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo originally was scheduled for the Jan. 22 performance. Because of difficulties with the musicians' union, the company cancelled its eastern tour earlier in the season and now has cancelled its entire midwestern tour, including scheduled appearances at Chicago, Milwaukee, Minneapolis and Green Bay.

Widely Acclaimed Although a replacement, the National Ballet of Canada, ranks high among the world's great touring companies. Its large corps de ballet has achieved an enviable reputation as one of the best disciplined in the world from leading

Tribute to Ike Fails to Show Personality

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The NBC news department, in a reverent mood, Tuesday night presented an hour-long program paying tribute to retiring president Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Everyone, from Ike's grade schoolteacher to President-elect John F. Kennedy, had glowing things to say about the soldier-statesman. It was friendly and affectionate, but the heroic—almost awe-struck—tenor of the careful prose accompanying the old newsreel clips seemed general and complimentary. Somewhere a much loved and respected human being named Eisenhower was lost. In just one hour it was impossible to dwell on many of the high spots of his career, but NBC could have covered more ground by eliminating half of the "hero's return" shots—the cars-and-confetti ones.

The last 15 minutes of the program were devoted to brief tributes—testimonials, really—by a wide variety of associates. They ranged from press secretary James Hagerty, who commented crisply on Eisenhower's opening up his press conferences to broadcasting media, to Indian prime Minister Nehru stating his impression of Ike as "a frank, able man devoted to the cause of peace."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon called him "a great man." and President-elect Kennedy spoke appreciatively of his predecessor's assistance in setting up an orderly transition from one administration to another. It was a nice gesture, but it was not a very stimulating or even well-organized TV show.

Recommended tonight: Bob Hope Show, NBC, 9-10 EST—the comedian's annual Christmas show for GIs taped at bases in the Caribbean, including Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba; Steel Hour, CBS, 10-11—"The Mating Machine," a comedy starring Diana Lynn and George Grizzard.

Beloit Art Show Plans Announced

BELOIT — Plans for the fourth annual Beloit and vicinity art exhibition featuring top paintings, watercolors, sculpture, and graphics, have been announced by the Art League and the college's Wright Art Center, co-sponsors.

The exhibition is scheduled for Feb. 5 through 26 at the art center with over $500 in prizes to be awarded. Competition is open to all artists within driving distance of Beloit. Work submitted for the show must be delivered in person or by a friend to the art center Jan. 21 or 22 between 1 and 4 p.m. The exhibition is intended only for original works of art completed since Jan. 1, 1959 and artists will be allowed to submit a maximum of two works. Paintings to be entered in the competition can be in oil, tempera, lacquer, or mixed media and must be suitably framed and wired for hanging. Watercolors should be framed under glass. Sculpture can be in wood, metal, stone, or plaster. Graphics include drawing, intaglio, lithography, woodcut, serigraphy and must be framed under glass. William Saltzman, director of the Rochester, Minn., Art Center since 1948, will be the judge who will select work to be exhibited and also will name the prize winning works to be announced at the Feb. 5 opening.

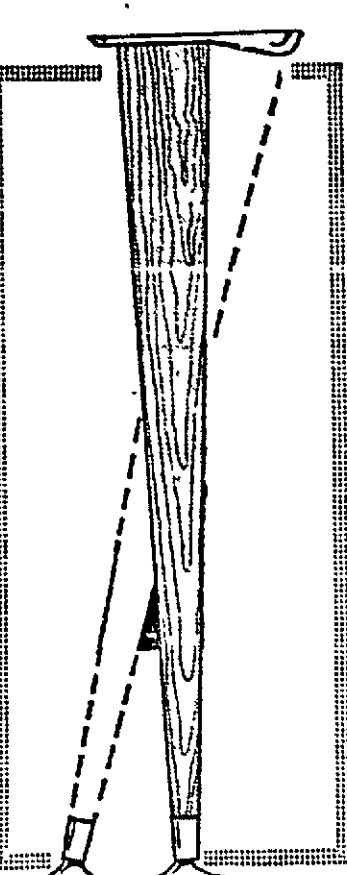

Complete information about the show can be obtained from the Beloit College Art Center, with correspondence marked Beloit and Vicinity Art Exhibit.

Vicar Wants to Form Union for Clergy Members

LONDON (AP)—A Church of England vicar called on the clergy today to form a trade union to fight for higher wages. The Rev. Lewis Roberts, 62, of Peasmarsh, in Sussex County, was reprimanded by his bishop last year for urging Anglican priests to stage a token strike protesting their "appalling pay." In the current issue of his parish magazine the vicar writes: "It is not without significance that the only profession in the country which has no organized body with the functions of a trade union is the clergy. 'What is good enough for doctors, teachers, bankers, and government employees should be good enough for us.' The Rev. Mr. Roberts added he finds it impossible to live on the 'miserable pittance'—650 pounds ($1,820) a year—the church pays since 1948, will be the judge who will select work to be exhibited and also will name the prize winning works to be announced at the Feb. 5 opening.

South Africa Set For Bloodbath

Doctor Says Natives Already Mentally Dividing White Land

BY DAVID SCHAEFER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A picture of the Union of South Africa as a very large powder keg with a very short fuse was sketched Tuesday night by Dr. Ernest A. Strakosch, Oshkosh dermatologist and student of African affairs.

"All the battles of the hot war in the next 10 years will be fought in Africa," the doctor told members of the Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce and their guests at an award dinner in the Conway Hotel.

In the Union of South Africa, the doctor said, things will be quiet "as long as the white man has machine guns to hold the natives down, but some day someone will give them weapons and there will be a slaughter."

A Matter of Time

Optimists estimate this will be within 10 years, but other students of the African situation believe it will be within two to five years. The white man's land and property already is being divided in the minds of the natives, Dr. Strakosch said.

The doctor, who recently returned from an extended tour of Africa, said a friend in the Union of South Africa purchased a new Mercedes. One day he found a native polishing it and asked him

why. The native replied that he had purchased the car for two pounds and was taking care of it until the day he would claim it.

The Union is a beautiful country, living is inexpensive and taxes are low, the doctor said, but each household has two huge dogs, a loaded gun is always within reach and few people sleep without a loaded revolver under their pillow. If asked, the European residents may say they trust their servants, but can't be sure their servants won't let in their neighbor's servants during the night.

Servants of White Man

The dynamite in the Union of South Africa, the doctor declared, is based on apartheid (separateness) and the fact that the Dutch own the land.

Apartheid is the Dutch "Holy Crusade" — the policy of the Union government and of the Dutch Reformed Church, he said. The Dutch teach the natives they are the descendants of the Biblical Ham, are cursed, and are destined to be the servants of the white man forever.

The native Bantus must carry passes or are subject to arrest and three months in jail. There are an estimated 10,000 arrests per month, the doctor said.

Of the 14½ million people in the Union, about 9½ million are Bantus, a group of tribes that speak the same language, he said. There are about 3 million Europeans, who have precarious control of the Union. The rest of the population is made up of one half million Asians and 1½ million colored, "a mixture of Malayan slaves and the good old English Navy", the doctor said.

Of the 9½ million Bantus, about 3 million work in the gold and diamond mines, 3 million work for white farmers and 3 million live in squalor on Bantu reservations. The Bantus, Dr. Strakosch said, are free to do whatever they want, as long as it's what the government wants.

The doctor made the following observations about Africa:

The next trouble spot will be Portuguese Guinea.

"Nice Platitudes"

The press in Africa wears blinders. And 90 per cent of the news that comes out of the Union is 90 per cent wrong. A Union leader threw Edward R. Murrow out of his office after Murrow came to do a "story" on Africa with a prepared script from New York. The syndicated columnists have legmen do their work; don't really know what's going on.

The American image is very dismal. Nassar is the man who does most in Africa. The United Arab Republic broadcasts in 720 languages 24 hours a day. The Voice of America broadcasts in English and French—which most natives don't understand — and speak "nice platitudes" about democracy to a people that inter-

Works Board Asks Reduction Of Assessments

Thin Gravel Layer Used on Streets to Be Paved in Future

The Appleton Board of Public Works Tuesday recommended cancellation of street improvement assessments for a part of Newberry Street, reduction of assessments for 10 grading and graveling projects and partitioning Committee Room A of City Hall.

For tack coat on E. Newberry Street between S. Lawe Street and the first railroad track, only Appleton Juvenile Furniture Co. and one home owner will have to pay assessments. Other property owners have no access to the street because their houses are on a high bluff on E. South River Street.

Grading and graveling assessments for streets which received a six-inch rather than the usual eight-inch layer of gravel were reduced from $2 to $1.50 per front foot. These streets, some south-east of Calumet Street and S. Kernan Avenue and others between Lindbergh Street and Northland Avenue in the northeast part of the city, were excavated to a lower level and given less gravel in preparation for future concrete pavement, explained Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski.

To Divide Room

If the Common Council approves, city janitors will divide the old devil defense office on the second floor of City Hall to form a committee room and a room for use by the City Health Department. Cost will not exceed $100, said Building Inspector Walter Bogan.

The works board was informed that the state director of planning's opinion was that annexation of the Dwain R. Hunter property, two acres near the Industrial Park, is "not contrary to public interest."

This advice came after the city completed a detailed three-page questionnaire on land use, city services, schools and other information for the Department of Resource Development. City Clerk Elden J. Broehm said.

"FRANKLY,

How can a few curls in the crust make COBB'S any better?"

A fair question, lady! It's the curls inside the new Cobb's Bread that make it better. You see, the TENDR-KURL® method adds an extra step in the kneading process before the loaf goes into the oven. It actually curls the dough, stretches the bread-cells to make the bread more tender. Presses out tiny air bubbles, so the bread stays fresher. It's baked longer, too...and that improves the flavor. Still dubious? Then please try a loaf. You'll know the difference right away.

Committee to Form Sanitary Area Plan

Petition to be Circulated in Grand Chute for Residents Okay

A five-man citizens' committee has been set up in the Town of Grand Chute to begin preliminary work for formation of a sanitary district.

Co-chairmen are William H. Zuehlke, Jr., and Richard Kewley. Other members are Willard Tillman, Edward Nigl and Gus Kools. Edward A. Arndt, a committeeman formerly appointed by the town board, resigned his position in favor of Zuehlke.

The men, after a discussion with State Sanitary Engineer Bruce Stevens, Green Bay, and interested citizens last night, will contact a lawyer to help draft a petition for town residents to sign if they favor establishment of a district, and to get an engineering firm to make a feasibility survey to give an idea of the area to be covered and possible costs.

State Request
Development of the spear-head group came after a state request that the town begin action to clean up an acute sewage problem in the Mud Creek area.

Creation of a sanitary district begins with circulation of a petition. The plan must be approved by 60 per cent of property owners or population in the area forming the district. A hearing is called by the town board, which has power to approve or disapprove the district, Stevens said. After the district is approved, the town board has no more authority over it.

A commission is appointed by town residents and a twenty-day period allowed for people to join or drop out of the district. Then the commission can go on with work necessary to set up sewage treatment facilities.

Water System
Stevens suggested the town also consider a water system.

"We urge you to take as constructive and as rapid steps as you can to adopt the district and start work on facilities," Stevens said.

John Lowe, manager of Guest House Inn and 41 Bowl, bemoaned might cost and what area should be included. Stevens declined to answer and Lowe said he was evading questions.

Up to Commission
"No, I'm not," Stevens answered. "It's up to the committee to obtain competent engineers to do this work." Stevens later asked to be excused so he would not hear cost estimates because he said he had to work with the firms on an objective basis. The main concern of the meeting was not costs, he said, but forming a committee to begin work in forming the district.

Three ways of paying for sewerage facilities include front foot assessments, general obligation bonds to pay for facilities, and a revenue bond, paid off by payments for connections and amount of sewage put through the system.

Any bond issue should be on facilities in the ground, Zuehlke said. A revenue bond would be difficult to collect because many residents would refuse to be hooked into a community system as long as their own operates satisfactorily, he explained.

Talk to City
Zuehlke suggested talks with the city to try to get the new city industrial plat into the system.

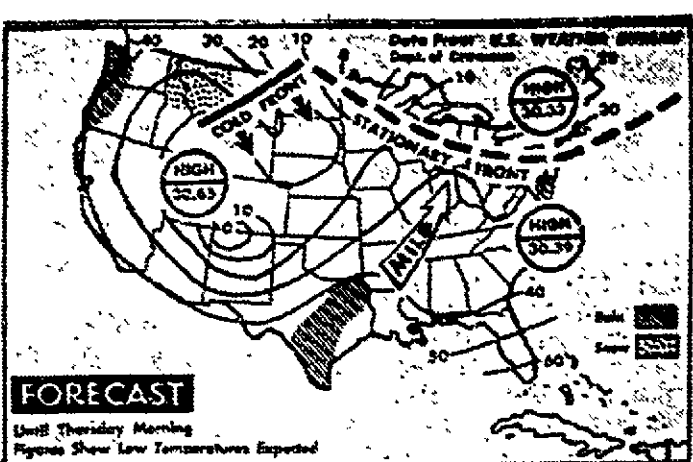

It would make bonding easier with more industries to carry the load and possibly eliminate Appleton's building a lift station estimated at $90,000 to serve the plat, he said.

Other alternatives are establishment of private sewage systems or annexation to Appleton, Stevens said.

"The area to be served is a favorably located area for gravity flow to the river. There are no great reversals in the land which would require pumping stations," Stevens said.

Warns Town
The state, he warned, does not look favorably on many small systems. The number should be limited if possible, or sewer service requested from a nearby community. Aid is available for sanitary districts, he noted.

"Mud Creek for years has acted as a free sewer," Zuehlke said. "If the creek had not existed, the problem cropping up now might have been solved long ago."

A Few Snow Flurries are predicted tonight in northern Maine and the higher elevations of western Montana and northern Idaho while occasional rain is expected in southern and central Texas and western Oregon. It will be warmer from the eastern Ohio Valley and the middle Atlantic states south to the east gulf coast.

No Bargaining?

Union Thanks Board, Then Criticizes It

Outagamie County's highway bargaining or negotiation with the employees, through their union, Tuesday thanked the county board for consideration in negotiations last year, then blasted the highway committee and the board for failing to negotiate.

Officers and members of Local 455 of the Council of County and Municipal Employees "have a feeling of deep frustration and dissatisfaction over the inadequacy of the wage increase granted and the lack of true collective bargaining," the union stated.

The union, turned down by the highway committee, appealed to the county board. The board turned to its highway committee, denied the union's appeal and filed the matter with the highway committee.

This, says Oberbeck, "denied our group a right to appeal from the action of a county board committee. This is unfair and undemocratic in our system of government."

What the local wants, concludes Oberbeck, is the right of appeal from any decision of the highway committee to the county board. The board filed the request with the highway committee.

They are E. J. Mollen, president; H. W. Bongers, vice president; D. M. Bongers, cashier; and T. F. DeBruin and Elizabeth Hammen, assistant cashiers.

Many Hope Warm Trend Stays Awhile

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wisconsin residents have only one thing to say about the current weather—let's hope it lasts.

Fair and mild is the description that fits prevailing conditions and no precipitation was reported anywhere in the state in the last 24 hours.

The temperature got up to a delightful 44 degrees in Milwaukee, Wausau and Eau Claire Tuesday. Other readings included: Grantsburg and Beloit-Rockford area 43, Lone Rock 42, Madison 41, Park Falls and the Superior-Duluth area 40, La Crosse and Green Bay 39. The nation's high mark was 84 at Thermal, Calif.

The lowest temperature reported in the state Tuesday night was 9 degrees at Lone Rock, compared with the nation's low of 20 below zero at Fraser, Col. Some other state lows included Madison 11, Grantsburg 13, Eau Claire 14, Park Falls 15, La Crosse 17, Milwaukee 18, Green Bay and Beloit-Rockford area 19, Wausau 20 and Superior-Duluth 23.

Beer, Minors in Same Car Leads To Fine for Girl

An Neenah girl and rural Neenah youth were fined in municipal court after they were found guilty of transporting beer with minors present and obtaining beer for minors.

Audrey M. Jansen, 18, of 128 Lorain St., Neenah, was fined $25 and her driver's privileges were suspended for 10 days for transporting beer. Roger Lehrer, 19, route 1, Neenah, was fined $35 for obtaining beer for minors.

Two cases of beer were arrested east of Shiocton by state beverage tax agents after the agents followed them from a Shiocton tavern, where the two had purchased a case of beer. Menasha and Appleton girls, both 17, were in the car.

Miss Jansen and Lehrer were held in Outagamie County jail, but cases of beer were in the car.

Architects Pick Appleton Man as New President

Appleton Architect Robert G. Sauter has been named president of the Northeast division of the Wisconsin chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

Sauter will open a series of 13 weekly appearances by area architects on the noon Channel 5 Mary Ann show today.

The series is an attempt to explain architecture's effect on the public's life through environment. Other new officers for the division are Larry Bray, Sheboygan, vice president, and Robert Varbro, Oshkosh.

Guest speaker for the installation at Oshkosh was Budde Marino, A.I.A.'s Wisconsin chapter public relations counselor.

Real Estate Broker Asks Permit Return

Engel Appeals Board Suspension in Dane County Circuit Court

Joseph J. Engel, whose real estate license was suspended by the state real estate brokers' board Dec. 28 for a year, has asked Dane County Circuit Court Judge Richard Bardwell to hold off the board's suspension order pending an appeal.

Such requests are nearly always granted until the appeal is filed, which automatically holds the suspension in limbo until a ruling on the appeal. The court hears the request Friday afternoon.

Engel's license for 1960 was suspended and the board refused to issue a 1961 broker's license on the grounds that the Appleton man did not maintain trust accounts for money paid on real estate transactions and mixed his clients' funds with his own in three bank accounts in Appleton, Neenah and Menasha.

Hearings Here
Engel's license was suspended by the board Oct. 5, but the broker got a reinstatement in Dane County Circuit court after pointing out that the board had not held a hearing on the charges. The board held two days of hearings in Appleton Nov. 2 and 3, then on Dec. 28 suspended Engel's license.

The case is the first to be appealed under the 1959 state law requiring real estate brokers to maintain trust accounts and adequate bookkeeping systems.

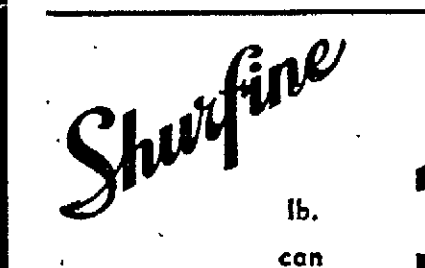

The court in Madison may issue an order stopping the board's action in suspending Engel's license, but the board's position traditionally has been that the court cannot order the board to issue a real estate broker's license. Thomas Rosenthal, board attorney, said today.

Works Board OKs School Requests

Revision of Building Priorities,
Hiring of Architects Included

The Board of Public Works voted Tuesday to revise its priority list of school building projects, to negotiate for purchase of a junior high school north of the city and to allow hiring architects for two school building projects.

The public school part of the five-year capital improvement schedule now includes:

1. A 10-room, $275,000 addition to Foster School, to be bonded in 1961 and completed in 1962. Hiring of an architect was approved by the works board, subject to City Council approval.

2. A $1 million elementary school in the southeast part of the city, to be bonded in 1962 and completed in 1963. The board also approved hiring of an architect for this project.

3. A $1.5 million junior high school north of the city, to be bonded in 1963 and completed in 1964.

4. A $4 million south side high school, to be bonded in 1963 and completed in 1965.

Another $1 million elementary school, in the northwest corner of the city, would be built in 1966-7.

This schedule probably is not final, works board and school advisory committee members indicated, because it places $5.5 million of bond issues in 1963 for schools, a total of about $6.5 million for all city purposes. Outlays during 1961 and 1962 would be less than $3 million a year.

The Board of Education indicated that the architect for the Foster addition would be George Narovec, who designed the original school. Preliminary sketches for the wing have been drawn.

Land Doesn't Exist

Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski said that hiring an architect for the southeast school was premature because the city has not accepted plats for the area, established street grades or installed streets, sewers or water mains.

The works board will negotiate with Percy G. Menning for the junior high site. Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell said that city will not buy the land, located between Florida Avenue and Capitol Drive and Lawe and Morrison Streets unless area between it and the present city limits is annexed.

Duszynski said the proposed site is centrally located for proposed sewage drainage systems. The main sewer will go north along Meade Street, he said. The city wants land on both sides of the street to be annexed if sewer lines to the school are to be installed.

Await Sewer Easement

The mayor told the Board of Education that the city is waiting for a sewer easement before acting on purchase of an elementary school site north of County Trunk Z between Appleton and Kimberly.

Construction of a school there is not anticipated before 1967.

Duszynski suggested that a study be made to determine whether areas outside the city—both those in the school district where property owners pay school but not general city taxes and those outside the district which send students to Appleton on a tuition basis—are carrying a fair share of costs of school sites and sewers, water mains, streets, public sidewalks and curbs and gutters leading to them.

Recreation Unit Accepts Bids Of $6,384

Improvements for Goodland Field Account for Most

About $6,384 in bids for improvements to Goodland Field and Telulah Park softball field, and for athletic and playground supplies and materials have been accepted by the Appleton Recreation Commission.

The commission also asked Recreation Director Elmer W. Grover to study bids on softball field bleachers and to ask the Board of Public Works for a consultant engineer for planning a roof for Goodland Field grandstand.

Include Installation

Low bids on Goodland Field improvements included $1,715 for two side wings and gates, by Cyclone Fence Co.; $1,640 for a concrete ramp, sidewalk and railings on each side of the grandstand, by Roland Hopfensperger; $277 for a paint spray gun and tank, by Sindahl Paint and Hardware Co.; and $268 for six windows in the grandstand, by Fountain Lumber Co.

Other low bids were $795 for an outfield fence for Telulah Park softball field, by Cyclone Fence Co.; $117 for craft materials, by Sax-Crafts; and $183 for playground supplies, including art and office supplies, by Smith School Supply.

The bids include complete equipment and installation according to specifications, Grover said. Orders for athletic materials and supplies for the whole recreation program, summer and winter, were divided between Pond Sport Shop, $768, and Berggren Bros. Sport Shop, $622.

Bidders on six sets of five-row bleachers for various ball diamonds offered a number of combined prices which were confusing to the commission. Grover is to report on them at a meeting in early February.

The Fox Cities Foxes Baseball Club's contract for use of Goodland Field also will be considered at that meeting.

Safe Opened for Sentiment's Sake

BROADUS, Mont. (AP) — For sentiment's sake the state's safest safe is open.

For 20 years after Ashton Jones put the little black safe in the Powder River Examiner newspaper offices no one knew the combination.

Owners Hardie J. Sickles and Aubrey Larson left it locked.

Then Jones came back and had a locksmith open it — to get the first dollar he earned.

No More Anise Squares...

Grocery With Penny Candy Now Is Empty, Boarded Up

The best stocked penny candy store in Appleton is boarded up now.

Doerfler's Grocery, 120 S. State St., once the favorite place of a child with a penny, now is empty and the property of the Outagamie County Bank, which bought the store in July.

Piled in old fashioned candy dishes in the store were such childhood treats as jujubes, licorice nigger babies, caramels, peanut butter cups, malted milk balls, spearmint leaves, candy cream cones, anise squares, butter balls, suckers, wax filled figures, and liberty streamers (candy dots on long paper strips.)

Originally Bakery

Students from St. Mary's School, St. Joseph School, and Wilson Junior High School were frequent customers at the store, Mrs. William E. Dery, former store owner, said. But praise of the store's candy selection came even from food salesmen who stopped for business.

The Doerfler store was on its way to becoming an Appleton landmark, because Mrs. Dery's father, Joseph Doerfler, opened his Day Bakery there about 1900.

The bakery, which eventually became named Doerfler's Bakery, was known for such specialties as its rye bread, molasses cookies, and sweet fried cakes, made by Doerfler himself, who was a baker for about 50 years.

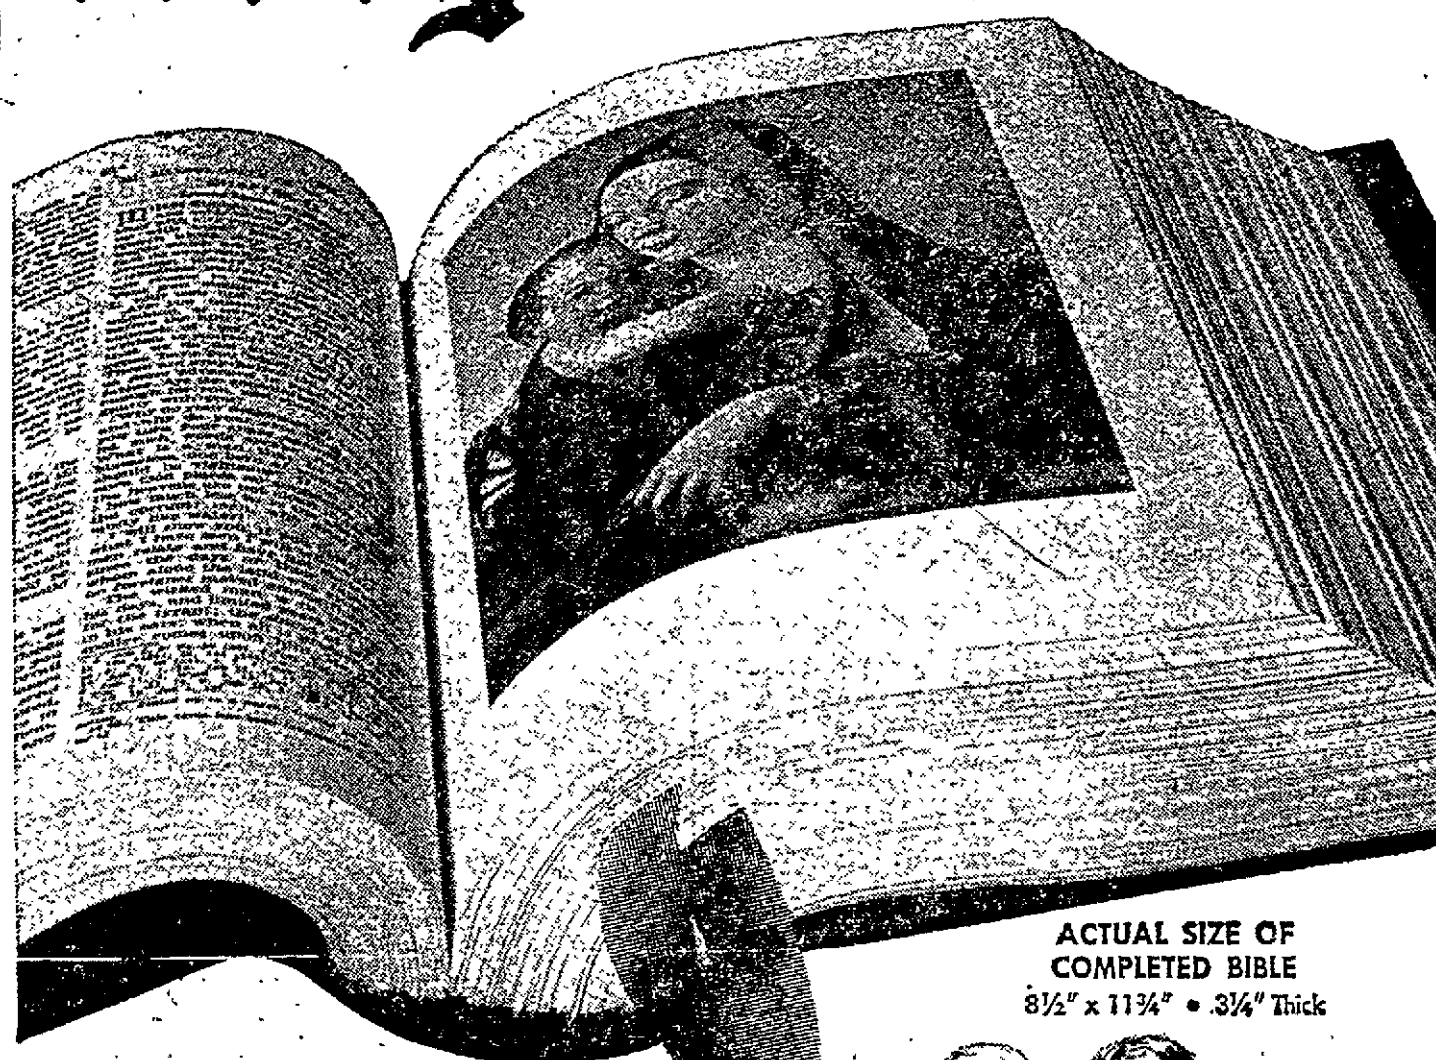

Store deliveries also were made by Doerfler, in a horse and wagon, and the operation of the store, from its beginning until 1960, was largely a family affair, with mother and children helping, too.

Penny candy became a store item while Doerfler's was still a bakery, an it carried over when the change was made to a grocery and Mrs. Dery became the owner in 1947 after Doerfler's death.

The store, sold in July, was operated by Mr. and Mrs. Dery, who now are living at route 1, Weyauvega.

Tint of Gold Sure to be in Ike's Message

Problem Has Not Gone Away Just Because Price Down

BY SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — There seems sure to be a tint of gold in President Eisenhower's last State of the Union message Thursday and in his final budget next Monday.

The problems of the loss of gold and its running mate, confidence in the U.S. dollar, haven't gone away just because prices for the metal on the London free market simmered down after October's spectacular flurry.

The gold outflow continues, despite U.S. Treasury steps to stabilize its world price and calm fears about the dollar's status.

Basic Causes
The basic causes for the outflow in gold will show up in the new budget — in the overseas spending asked for defense and aid of other nations, in any policy announced toward U.S. private investment abroad, and in the probable chances of getting a balance in federal outgo and income which would further bolster confidence in the dollar.

Other causes, outside our direct control, will remain in maneuverings abroad. These include the desire of private hoarders to buy the metal as a hedge against the still rumored and vigorously denied devaluation of the U.S. dollar, and even the game the Soviet Union may be playing with its own big supply of gold overhanging the market.

Withholding Sales
The Soviets can keep the supply of gold on the free market smaller by withholding sales of their gold. They usually sell gold to meet their own trading deficits with Western nations. When they don't sell gold they help to keep the gold supply thin, and this means the price can be bid up easily when private hoarders around the world want it enough.

Or the Soviet Union could dump gold on the market and disrupt it for the time being by undercutting prices — although this would help the U.S. Treasury by drying up demand for its metal held at the official price of $35 an ounce.

Reports from European financial markets indicate the Soviets haven't been doing anything about gold for three months. And one of the things the international financial markets is watching, and probably the U.S. Treasury also, is what the Soviet Union is doing or seems likely to do.

Devalue Dollar
The three-year deficit and the accompanying loss of gold has given rise in some foreign quarters to beliefs that the United States eventually may have to devalue the dollar—that is, make it worth less in gold by hiking the price of gold. Those believing this have bought gold for their private hoards.

Both the old and the incoming U.S. administrations say devaluation isn't even being considered. But both agree that something must be done to cut the annual dollar-payment deficits.

One way is to increase our exports—but these now are running ahead of imports by around $5 billion a year. Another is to cut spending abroad for foreign aid and on military and diplomatic spending. We have another task force in West Germany asking it to help shoulder some of this load.

The upcoming presidential message may give clues as to how we are faring and what more we hope to do in balancing our payments with the rest of the world.

Scrawls on Sidewalks No Longer Damaging

NEW YORK (AP) — Fans who scrawl endearments to their favorites at stage entrances with crayon and lipstick are going to have a tough time from now on. A Long Island manufacturer is distributing a plastic coating that adheres permanently to brick or concrete. Fervent scrawlings just wash off.

The New Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce decal will soon be appearing in windows and doors of Twin City business places. Ambrose Owen, executive vice president of the First National Bank of Neenah, is the recipient of several decals from Vern Duerrwachter, Chamber of Commerce president, while A. P. Engbretonson, manager, Wisconsin State Employment Service, fits one of the decals on the bank door.

Ink Plant Fire Damage Minor

3 Trucks Respond;
Most Loss Caused
By Water, Smoke

MENASHA — A tub of ink flared shortly after Tuesday, causing only minor damage but great concern at the Marathon Printing Ink Division plant, 450 Milwaukee St. All three Menasha fire trucks answered the alarm. Fireman Herman Bartelme was overcome by smoke and fumes. He was kept overnight at Theda Clark Hospital.

Damage was restricted to the rotogravure ink section, in the southwest corner of the building. Most loss was caused by water and smoke. The only machine damaged was some scorched paint.

Cause has not been determined. The ink plant handles many highly inflammable materials.

Twin City Businesses Display New Stickers

NEENAH — The eye of Neenah, as Neenah residents has been caught by a bright, interestingly designed decal appearing on the doors of Twin City businesses.

The new decal is the business place's way of letting the people know they belong to the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce. This is the first decal-type sticker in the Twin City Chamber's history.

It was designed by John Konrad, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and produced by Cross and Oberlies, Menasha printers.

The center of the design is two gears, representing the industrial twins of Neenah and Menasha. The gears are set within a heart, indicating Neenah and Menasha are in the heart of the Fox River Valley.

The decal was made at the suggestion of Donald C. Shepard Jr., second vice president of the Chamber of Commerce in charge of membership.

"We must create a Chamber of Commerce climate in the Twin Cities," he said, "So that belonging becomes the thing to do."

Another reason for its production was to let the public know who the members of the Chamber of Commerce are and to get the people to patronize those businesses.

In conjunction with this, member businesses have started to include this phrase, "We are members of the Chamber of Commerce of Neenah - Menasha," in their newspaper and radio advertisements.

Asks Rental Hangars At Winnebago Airport

Basler Contends Companies Might Delay
Using Planes if Forced to Buy Facilities

OSHKOSH — Possible need for additional hangars at the Winnebago County Airport here was expressed by Warren Basler, operator of a flight service at the airport, as he told the county board committee Tuesday night of the growing interest in company-owned planes.

Representatives of the Avis rental car service appeared before the committee to ask a reduction in its rental price at the airport. It house them at the airport, Basler now pays $1,800 a year, which is said to the committee. He wondered if something might be undertaken to provide additional hangars similar to the arrangements made earlier with Kimberly - Clark Corp. and Marathon Division.

A company that spends a large amount of money to get its first plane does not want to have to build a hangar right away and scale it out of the aviation field. If it could rent hangar space, that would help, he indicated. His flight service operates and maintains these planes for these companies, and that about $6,000 had been dis-

The board voted to bring in a resolution at Tuesday's board meeting to allow it to use about $6,000 of unspent funds carried over from 1960 for a new door at the Twentieth Street hangar used by Basler. The door will be 58 feet long and 15 feet high. Basler also commented the use of salt for ice removal on the airport itself.

Guidance Center Corporation Picks New Officer List

Name Mrs. Johnson President;
Directors Replace Resignees

NEENAH — Directors of Winnebago County Guidance Center, Inc., elected Mrs. C. G. R. Johnson, of Neenah, president at the annual meeting Tuesday.

Mrs. George Stearns, Oshkosh, was elected vice president. Re-elected officers were the Rev. T. L. Eide, Oshkosh, treasurer, and Norman Whitford, Oshkosh, secretary.

Two new members were named to the board of directors to fill vacancies created by the resignations of Mrs. William Dowling and Al Lang, of Neenah and Menasha, respectively. Named as their successors were Mrs. Robert Melson and Gordon Altenhofen, both of Menasha. The board of directors is balanced among the areas of the county in its membership.

Renamed to 3-year terms were the 1-year appointees whose terms expired in 1961. These included Mrs. Ruth Falvey, Norman Whitford, Mrs. James Champion, William Herziger and Perry Tipler. Mrs. Falvey is a Neenah resident and Herziger from Menasha. The remaining directors are from Oshkosh.

Annual reports were presented and approved during the corporation session. The financial report indicated that the corporation had raised a total of $10,196 during the past year, of which approximately $6,000 was given in small contributions to the Center. The corporation provides physical facilities for the Center.

A budget of $8,945 is proposed for the coming year. Largest items listed are the rent for the building, $3,000; janitorial service, $900; electrical rewiring and air conditioning, $1,500. The remaining items to be purchased are capital improvements, including office equipment.

The building committee report indicated that during the last year the major items involved acoustical problems, roof and floor tile repair, ventilating and cooling problems and exterior building lighting.

Dr. George Arndt, psychiatrist for the center, reported on the first year's activities, indicating that the case load hit 99 in September which, he said, was really too high for maximum effectiveness.

He also indicated that while there had been no delay at any time between evaluation and the start of therapy, the increase in the caseload had led to a delay between application and evaluation, which grew from 16 days to 60 days in August and beyond that in September.

Dr. Arndt also reported that more than $5,000 has been turned over to the Winnebago County board from patients receipts.

He emphasized again that Winnebago county is one of only four counties in the state to have a full-time psychiatrist and he outlined the proposal now before the county board requesting the addition of another professional worker to the staff.

At present the center has only three full-time staff members for a population of 107,000 where in other counties there are 10 full-time workers for a population of 220,000 and eight for a population of 150,000 respectively.

Aviation Committee To Send 3 to Hearing

Oshkosh Delegation Also to Attend;
Drexler Lashes Governor's Halt Order

OSHKOSH — The Winnebago County Board's aviation committee Tuesday authorized sending three members to Friday's Wisconsin State Aeronautics Commission hearing, called to consider requests of Gov. Gaylord Nelson and State Sen. William A. Drexler to delay action on the county airport expansion.

The requests ask that the projects now programmed, which include awarding of bids for the flight control tower next Monday, be delayed until after the special study ordered by the governor of the proposed joint Winnebago and Outagamie county airport situation is completed.

The aviation committee designated County Board Chairman Joseph Drexler and Supvs. Elmer Steinhilber and Louis Zernach to attend the commission's meeting at Madison Friday.

An Oshkosh delegation also plans to attend the meeting and is making plans for its attendance at a meeting this noon. Included in this group is representation from the Oshkosh Chamber of Commerce and Associated Industries, Inc., of Oshkosh.

Bids for the control tower will be opened as scheduled at 11 a.m. Monday at the courthouse here, the committee decided. It pointed out that the county board had authorized the project and the committee can do nothing to delay it.

Twenty-eight contractors already had applied for plans for the tower which earlier was estimated to cost $140,000, but which now may run $160,000 because of modifications made in the original plans.

"If the senator or governor or anyone else has the power to stop this project," Drexler declared in referring to the requests to hold up letting the flight control tower bids, "then we have no need to file so far."

Steinhilber added that would become dictatorship and repeated the county has no alternative but to go ahead.

The bids are good for 30 days and would have to be awarded in that time unless the bidders would agree to an indefinite postponement, such as to await the governor's study report.

Some action on the entire airport project may be taken by the county board when it meets at 10 a.m. next Tuesday, the day after the opening of the bids.

Jordan's Request

Copies of a letter sent by T. K. Jordan, state aeronautics commission director, to Atty. Gen. John Reynolds for an opinion on the legality of delaying the awarding runway expansion costs $29,000, of the bids and the changing of the program and also of a letter sent to the commission members, were read to the county aviation committee Tuesday night.

The letters pointed out that an extension of time will be asked for submission of complete plans for the taxiway project and apron expansion which is to be submitted the federal airport agency by Feb. 1. This phase of the Winnebago County expansion program costs $130,000 while the cost for the flight control tower and east-west runway expansion costs $29,000, making a total of $29,000 being the program and also of a letter sent to the commission members, were read to the county aviation committee Tuesday night.

MADISON — Manitowoc continues to set a fast pace in the University of Wisconsin Extension Division Basketball Conference with seven straight wins, the latest at the expense of the Fox Valley Center last weekend.

Sheboygan, idle last week, ranks second with 5-1 while Fox Valley and Wausau are deadlocked for third with 4-2 slates. Racine downed Wausau and Marinette, Kenosha bested Marinette and Wausau nipped Kenosha in other games last weekend.

Tom Ruelle of Kenosha has the most points, 165, but has accumulated them in eight games. He is averaging 20 points per game while DuWayne Prins of Sheboygan, who has 128 markers in six games, owns a 21 point average.

Sheboygan is at Menasha Saturday night in this week's lone contest.

The scoring:

Macs Seek First Half Honors in Eastern League

MENASHA — The Menasha Macs attempt to seal the first round championship in the Eastern Wisconsin Amateur Basketball League in a game at Valders tonight.

The Macs lead the first round with a 7-1 record and are assured of at least a tie. Every other team has at least two defeats. Valders owns a 5-3 record.

The Menashans were defeated by New Holstein last Saturday in their second round opener. Tonight's game closes the first half.

LITTLE NINE CONFERENCE

W	L
Shiocton	6 1
Hortonville	5 2
Denmark	4 3
Freedom	4 3
Hilbert	4 3

Tuesday Night's Results:

Denmark 52, Hilbert 34
Reedsville 62, Wrightstown 47
Shiocton 72, Bear Creek 17
Winneconne 56, Hortonville 52
Omro 57, Freedom 54 (2 st)

Shiocton High School gained undisputed possession of first place in Little Nine basketball play by smothering Bear Creek, 72-17, Tuesday night.

Hortonville was dropped from the co-lead as Winneconne upset the Polar Bears, 56-52. Tuesday's scrambling produced a five-way tie for the third position.

Denmark, Freedom, Hilbert, Omro, and Reedsville are the five quintets. Denmark nipped Hilbert 59-56; Freedom was scuttled, 57-54, in a blazing double overtime, by Omro, and Reedsville decided Wrightstown, 62-47.

Shiocton had too many guns for the Bruins. High-scoring Mike McClone was not suited up for the losers.

Take 22-5 Lead

Commanding the boards, the Chiefs jumped to an early 22-5 advantage in the first period. In the third period Shiocton outscored Bear Creek, 20-1.

John Johnson led the winners with 21 points, while Bill Allen chipped in with 15. Mike Prunty garnered 7 for the Bruins.

Winneconne notched its second straight. The Wolves led at the end of the half but the Polar Bears came back strong in the third, gaining a 3-point advantage, 42-39.

Rebounding began to pay off in baskets in the final frame, however, and Winneconne went ahead, 47-45, and maintained the lead the rest of the game.

Dave Poehlman and Martin Day led the Wolves, with 19 and 13 respectively, Dick Muroy had 18 for Hortonville.

Freedom sank two charity tosses with 30 seconds remaining to knot the score, 48-48. Both teams scored four points in the first overtime, but Omro hit first in the final extra stanza to take the advantage. Freedom tied the count, 54-54, only to have Omro get a basket and free throw to finish the game.

Oshkosh Titans Tackle Ripon

OSHKOSH — Oshkosh State College entertains Ripon College in a non-league game this evening at Albee Hall. The 3 p.m. contest will be preceded by a 6:15 p.m. test between the jayvees of both schools.

Oshkosh has a 6-3 record for the year and Ripon shows 6-4 for its efforts. Bob Bucholtz paces the Titans scorers with 159 points. Mike Grabner has 148, Bob Karisny 119, John Stark 86 and Dean Austin 66.

Visit Fond du Lac Springs In Return Test; Shoot for 6th Straight FVCC Verdict

CATHOLIC CONFERENCE

W	L

Tuesday's Results:

Marquette Catholic 54, St. John 47

MENASHA — Unbeaten St. Mary, possessor of the state's longest winning string, returns to the Fox Valley Catholic Conference Trail Thursday night with a visit to Fond du Lac Springs.

The Zephyrs, with 18 straight wins accumulated since last Feb. 1, haven't met a league opponent since Dec. 23 and the challenger was the same Springs quintet. Since that get together, won 61-49 by St. Mary, the Menashans played the Alumni and the last week dealt Appleton Xavier its only loss.

Other winning skeins which Springs will attempt to sever include the eight straight run up this season, five in a row in conference play and 27 in succession against league foes, dating back to the 1957-58 campaign.

2-2 League Record

Since their defeat by the Zephyrs, the Ledgers tumbled. Premontre to boost their league record to 2-2.

Springs seldom has been an easy touch for the Menashans, especially in its own gym. Even in the days of St. Mary's powerhouses in the mid-fifties, the Ledgers were tough customers at home, although St. Mary usually came home with a win.

Coach Lou Yagovich's charges weren't any pushovers in their Dec. 23 visit here and although the final margin was a dozen points, the spread was an unsafe five with 1:52 to play.

Best Performance

Their performance against Xavier was by far, the Zephyrs best.

of the year. The rebounding, which was expected to be good, but which had been spotty at times, sparkled. Against Springs, they'll be facing another team with a height disadvantage but which did a commendable job on the boards in the pre-Christmas scuffle.

The Springers have been handicapped by lack of a consistent scoring and a solid pivotman. Rick Nuss, one of two returning lettermen, has started most games at the post but has scored only 16 points in four games.

Leading Scorer

Dave Wirtz tallied 18 against St. Mary, high 1-game output for a Springer in league play, but against Premontre was limited to five free throws. Other starters are Joe Catala, foreign exchange student from the Philippines, Dave Pawsatt and Dan Bittner.

Coach Ralph McClone is expected to counter with an all-senior starting lineup composed of Jerry Laemmerich, Jim Koerner, Bill Becker, Tony Rechner and Bob Rueckl.

In the initial clash, Koerner and Laemmerich led the Zephyrs with 16 and 13 points respectively. Both teams made approximately 30 per cent of their field goal attempts.

Shawano Five Wins

GREEN BAY — Shawano, which visits Menasha's gym Friday night, evened its non-conference record at 2-2 by defeating East Green Bay 47-45 here Tuesday night. Lee Dallman's 13 points paced the dials.

St. John Garners 7th Menasha League Win

Boosts Lead to 4 Games; Merchants Defeat Marathon

15. Chet Swieczkowski had 17 for Banta's. St. John only committed two fouls while Banta's had 13.

Marathon was in front of the Merchants 17-13 at the quarter and 33-31 at halftime. The Merchants were in command 44-39 at the close of three segments.

Gary Batley dropped in 30 points on 10 baskets and as many free throws for the winners. Jerry Plier tallied 13. Brethauer's 19 paced the Marathon entry.

The box scores:

St. John	FG	FT	PF	Banta's	FG	FT	PF
St. John	7	10	15	Banta's	7	10	15
Merchants	3	4	15	Marathon	3	4	15

Tuesday's Results:

Men. Merchants 52, Marathon 44
St. John 47, Banta's 57

MENASHA — St. John increased its lead in the Menasha Muni League to four games by besting Banta's 67-57 Tuesday night at the Butte des Morts Gym.

Runnerup Marathon was defeated by the Menasha Merchants 52-46. The Menasha Macs drew a bye.

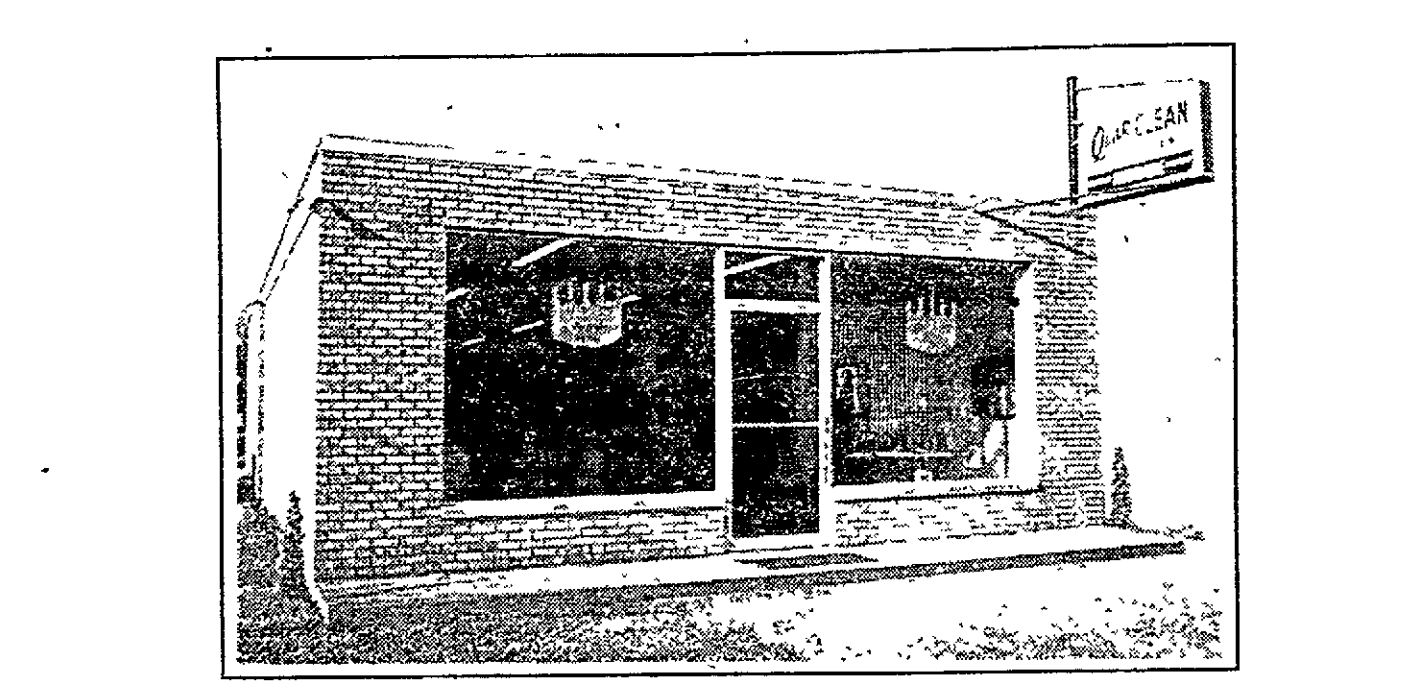

St. John owned a 14-6 first period lead over Banta's and boosted the advantage to 32-18 at halftime. The difference was reduced to nine points at 49-40 at the close of three frames.

Bob Prange's 20 points led the winners. Jerry Koslowski added

Special Commendation Voted By Board for John Gundlach

NEENAH — A special commendation for Neenah High School biology teacher John Gundlach was voted Monday night by the Neenah Board of Education.

The commendation was in recognition of Gundlach's work in his field beyond the requirements of his job.

Gundlach is one of 60 high school biology teachers in the United States responsible for revising the biology curriculum.

This group worked in Colorado last summer producing a new biology text book, oriented toward bio-chemistry. Three texts actually were produced, with different degrees of difficulty.

Fifteen centers throughout the country were selected to test the new book. Although Neenah was not one of the centers, Gundlach was allowed to test the book here because of his work on it.

He is using one of the texts in his two freshmen - sophomore biology classes.

The book will be revised next summer, he said, and probably again in 1962 before it is printed for general use. He picked the particular book he is using, he said, because it follows more closely his own beliefs.

Started with Sputnik

"Biochemistry is one of the top sciences," he said, "and biology is moving ahead by leaps and bounds." Most of this started with the launching of the first sputnik.

"We will find out how much the children have been challenged," he said.

Next year, he said, they hope to expand the program from the present 105 teachers across the country, to more than 1,000.

The new concept in teaching biology is getting away from merely learning the names and labeling

Actor Borgnine, Wife Back Together Again

HOLLYWOOD — Ernest Borgnine, 42, and his wife, actress Katy Jurado, 33, are together again after a stormy New Year's Eve parting.

The Academy Award-winning actor, announcing this Tuesday, said: "It was just a minor fracas. There was never any talk about divorce. We love each other, and everything is fine again."

Funds for the study came from the National Science Foundation. Federal funds were also involved in remodeling and furnishing the National Defense Education Act.

Name Manager Of Penney Store At Fox Point

NEENAH — William E. Bitter, formerly of Quincy, Ill., has been appointed manager of the J. C. Penney Co. department store here, the company has announced.

Grand opening of the new store in the Fox Point Shopping Center at Winneconne Avenue and Green Bay Road is scheduled Feb. 15.

Mr. Bitter joined the Penney Company in 1949 as a salesman in Des Moines, Ia. He was promoted to section manager, then merchandise manager, a position he held in the Appleton store, before being promoted to manager.

The Penney Co., whose store managers and other personnel share in the profits they help produce, has a long-standing policy of promotion from within the organization.

Ex-Menashan Left $40,000 in Real Estate

OSHKOSH — The late Harrison A. Smith, formerly of Menasha and who moved to Florida prior to his death, left $40,000 as his share of Wisconsin real estate holdings, an inventory filed Tuesday with County Judge Herbert J. Mueller indicated.

This property included his share of a $65,000 Menasha home and property in Neenah and Bayfield County.

Judge Mueller also Tuesday assigned the $47,700 estate of the late Martha Schmunk of Winneconne who died Aug. 15. Her husband will receive $46,026 of that amount and a niece, Vivian Godding, and a niece, Minnie Galligan, will share in the balance.

Funeral Services for Mrs. Herman Ihde, 80, Route 1, Neenah, who died Monday afternoon will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Kessler Funeral Home, Neenah, with burial in Clayton Cemetery, Milwaukee.

Mrs. Ihde was active in state and national Grange affairs.

Funeral Services for Ronald J. Kuhr, 22, route 1, Larsen, who drowned when his car was pushed into the Neenah power canal by a train Monday, will be at 9 a.m. Thursday at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church, Neenah.

New London Challenges Papermakers Friday Night

Mara Says Lombardi Was New York's First Choice

New Coach Al Sherman Fears Browns

NEW YORK (AP) — Allie Sherman, new head coach of the New York Giants, tabs the Cleveland Browns "the team to beat" in the Eastern Division of the National Football League next season.

"I think that Philadelphia will have trouble without Norm Van Brocklin," said Sherman, who Tuesday signed a three-year contract to succeed Jim Lee Howell. Van Brocklin, the Eagles' brilliant quarterback, retired after leading them to the league championship.

"I don't like to make predictions this early," said Sherman. "but I feel that we should be right up there with the Browns. Pittsburgh and St. Louis could make a run of it, too."

First Choice

Sherman's appointment was announced at a press luncheon during which Wellington Mara, the Giants' vice president, disclosed that Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi was his club's first choice. Lombardi was an assistant coach of the Giants before moving to Green Bay.

"We went after Lombardi right after the close of the 1960 season, but he told us his obligations at Green Bay would not permit him to consider the job," Mara explained. "We had a mutual understanding when he went to Green Bay that he would get first crack at the job if it became available. We are certain that Sherman will make a fine head coach."

Lombardi, who piloted the Packers to the Western Division title in 1960, has three years remaining of his five-year contract with Green Bay. He was Sherman's predecessor as the Giants' offensive coach and this year led Green Bay to the NFL's Western Division title, losing the championship to Philadelphia, 17-13.

Sherman was one of pro football's first quarterbacks, joining Philadelphia in 1943. He remained with the Eagles until 1947. He was offensive coach under Steve Owen of the Giants for five seasons. Then he became head coach of Canada's Winnipeg club. He returned to the Giants as chief scout in 1957 and was named Howell's assistant in 1959.

Tougher Athletic Code Under Consideration At NCAA Meeting

Small Schools May Kill Most of Impending Changes

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A tougher athletic code than that broken by North Carolina, Arizona and Loyola of New Orleans was before the National Collegiate Athletic Association today.

New legislation would provide for a national letter of intent, a general five-year eligibility rule, a stiffer transfer rule and limitations on the use of foreign athletes.

The bigger schools made the news Tuesday, but the NCAA's small colleges were expected to dominate today's formal session and kill most of impending rule changes.

Little Sympathy

There was little sympathy expressed by the small ones when North Carolina, Arizona and Loyola each were placed on probation for one year by the NCAA Council.

Preliminary round table discussion on the key legislation indicated the smaller schools, which dominate the sprawling organization, feel it is up to the institutions and their conferences to legislate the question of athletic eligibility.

North Carolina and Loyola, as part of their probation, were barred from post season championships and other basketball tournaments cooperating with the NCAA. Arizona, whose guilt came from football violations, received probation only with no additional sanctions.

The NCAA said Arizona's pen-

Bays' Taylor Wins Award In Louisiana

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Jim Taylor, the Packers' powerful fullback, has been named Louisiana's "athlete of the year."

It was the first statewide award program conducted by the press, radio and television under sponsorship of the Louisiana Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Taylor was selected over such stars as Bob Pettit of pro basketball, Billy Cannon and John Crowe of pro football and many others.

The athlete of the year award will be presented at a banquet in New Orleans Thursday night, but Jim won't be on hand to receive it. He's out in Los Angeles drilling with the West stars for the Pro Bowl game, Sunday.

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEENAH — Kimberly's win skein which has grown to seven straight will be challenged by New London Friday night when they get together on the Papermaker court in this week's feature Mid-Eastern Conference tussle.

Other Friday night encounters send Neenah to Two Rivers, Shawano to Menasha and Clintonville to Kaukauna.

The Papermakers have five conference victories sandwiched between non-league verdicts over Sheboygan South and Little Chute St. John.

New London, on the other hand, is trying to halt a 2-game losing string, which, if it continues to grow, will put a serious crimp in the Bulldog title ambitions in a hurry.

73-Point Average
Kimberly has taken the lead in the offensive and defensive departments. It is averaging 73 points a game and has given up an average of 51.4 per outing. None of its victory margins has been less than 20 points.

New London is averaging 57 points per outing and the defensive column shows the same number of points allowed.

Neenah attempts to protect its hold on second place against a Two Rivers squad trying to rebound from last week's thumping by Kimberly. A Rocket victory and Kimberly loss would vault the former into a first place tie. Neenah has won four straight league games and holds a 5-4 overall slate.

Jay Hopes Rise

Menasha's pennant hopes took on a rosier glow through its win over New London last week and the Jays want to continue their climb back toward the top at Shawano's expense.

The Indians have had their good and bad nights. They beat New London and Wausau on successive nights but then were the victims as Clintonville broke its 3-game losing chain.

Kaukauna tries for the sixth time to gain its initial conference win with Clintonville as its intended victim. The Truckers rank third in offense but have the circuit's worst defensive average. Kaukauna has scored only 196 points in five games and hasn't been able to concoct more than 41 points in any one of them.

West Wins 6
The West has responded by winning 6 of the first 10 pro bowl games.

The game this year features two fine quarterbacks — Johnny Unitas of Baltimore for the West, and Norm Van Brocklin of Philadelphia for the East.

Baltimore's running attack collapsed late last season and with Alan Ameche out, defensive units against the Colts were able to contain Lenny Moore on sweeps and gang up on Unitas and his receivers when he took to the air. Unitas will have adequate ground power Sunday — and a topnotch fullback in Jim Taylor of Green Bay.

Van Brocklin passed Philadelphia to the NFL title and the Eagles won nine games in a row after losing the opener.

'Red' Wilson Elected Bank Vice President

MADISON (AP)—The Madison Bank and Trust Co. announced Tuesday that stockholders have elected Robert (Red) Wilson, former catcher for the Detroit Tigers baseball team, assistant vice president of the institution.

Wilson, former University of Wisconsin football star, retired from baseball at the end of the 1960 season. He worked for the bank between seasons and recently joined it on a permanent basis.

NEW YORK (AP)—Two of the best immediate prospects to make the Milwaukee Braves' varsity are not even on the club roster. They are pitcher Bob Hendley, and outfielder Mack Jones. Both are on the list of Louisville, a Braves' farm club.

Hendley, 21, won 16 and lost 9 last year and added five victories for the Colonels in the playoffs and Junior World Series.

The promising youngster could gain a spot on the starting staff, depleted by the disposal of Joey Jay and Juan Pizarro in a winter trade.

"Hendley could be our fourth starter," said General Manager John McHale. "The big question is whether he's ready."

Jones is the boy McHale had in mind when he swapped center fielder Billy Bruton to Detroit last month. The youngster batted .309 at Louisville.

Best Chance
Among those on the roster, the newcomer with the best chance probably is Don Nottebart, a 24-year-old right-hander who posted a 13-5 record at Louisville.

Another good prospect is Ken MacKenzie, 26, who was 6-4 at Louisville with a 2.40 earned run average.

The remaining rookies appear to be in need of more minor league experience. A couple of

Jack Early Paces 54-47 Victory With 27 Points

LITTLE CHUTE — Marinette Central came from behind in the second half to hand St. John High School a 54-47 Fox Valley Catholic Conference basketball defeat at Marinette Tuesday night.

It was the fifth straight loss in league play for the Dutchmen and their ninth straight of the season. Central is now 3-2 in the conference.

Coach Bill Fitzpatrick's Dutchmen had a 23-19 lead at the intermission, the first halftime lead they enjoyed this season. However, it could not stand up under the steady hitting of scoring star Jack Early of Central who bagged 18 of his 27 points in the last two periods.

Early scored seven of the first nine points for Central at the start of the third period and went on to easily take game scoring honors.

St. John took a 11-8 lead at the end of the first period as senior Roy Vandenberg led the way with three field goals.

In the second frame, the Chutes hit 12 markers while Marinette had 11 to make the margin four points at the half.

Marinette took the lead with 17 points in the third period while the Dutchmen were held to 10. The Cavaliers hit 18 in the final frame and St. John managed 14, six coming on three buckets by Joe Verkuilen.

Hit 32 Per Cent
For the game, the Dutchmen shot 32 per cent, with 16 field goals in 50 attempts. St. John had one of its better nights from the free throw line, with 15 out of 24.

Vandenberg topped St. John in scoring for the third straight game as he hit 12 points. Verkuilen had 10.

MU Stops Titans' Home Win Skein At 23 Straight

Blasts Detroit in 85-63 Upset; Glaser and Nixon Lead Attack

DETROIT (AP)—An underdog Marquette basketball team zoomed to a 40-21 halftime advantage and then coasted to an 85-63 victory over Detroit Tuesday night.

The defeat was the first at home for Detroit after 23 straight victories.

The Warriors dazzled the Titans from the outset, hitting on 52 per cent of their shots from the field during the first half. The Titans hit on only 23 per cent of their shots in the opening period.

Detroit narrowed the gap in the second half and got to within 10 points of Marquette on two occasions before the Warriors turned on the steam again to score their eighth victory in 13 games. Detroit now is 9-4 for the season.

3 Lead Attack
The Warriors had three men leading their attack. Guards Ron Glaser and Dick Nixon got 21 and 20 points, respectively, while veteran Don Kojis scored 18, playing on the outside most of the way.

Detroit's Dave Debuschere was the top point getter with 23 points while Charlie North got 10. Titan Captain Larry Hughes got only one free throw before fouling out. With Glaser setting the pace, the Warriors hit on 9 of 20 shots in the first 10 minutes while Detroit made good on only 4 of 22. The Warriors then led 19-11 and were never threatened thereafter.

Whitlinger Scores 25 as Hawks Erase Halftime Deficit

Xavier had the poorer free throw shooting percentage here Tuesday night but still downed Jola-Scandinavia from the foul line in a 77-69 decision.

The come-from-behind success was Xavier's eighth in nine starts and put the Hawks back on the winning track after Menasha-St.

Mary had halted a win streak at seven straight. The big I-S Thunderbirds of the Central Wisconsin Conference are now 6-4, overall.

The visitors grabbed a 21-15 first quarter lead and were still in front, 38-37, at the half—shooting about 50 per cent in the first two quarters. Xavier moved ahead, 58-55, after three stanzas.

Both clubs made 27 field goals — and had remarkably similar shooting percentages. The losers took 66 shots, for a .409 rate. Xavier had 67 shots and a .403 mark.

I-S wined 15 foul shots in 20 tries for .750. Xavier made 23 of 31 for a .742 record.

Warren "Kip" Whitlinger again led Xavier scorers, this time with 25 points. Bouncing back from totals of 0 and 3 against St. Mary, Pete Zanzig and Dick Wiesner tallied 18 and 17, respectively.

Jim Thullen collected 18 and Jim Sorenson 15 for the Thunderbirds.

Jim Tepp Scores 10 in Extra Period To Clinch Win

MANAWA — Stevens Point Pacelli outscored Manawa High 12-4 in the overtime to take a 62-54 win action here Tuesday night.

Jim Tepp scored 10 of the 12 in overtime and finished the game with 25 points.

The score at the end of the four quarters was 50-50. Manawa held the advantage in the regulation time until Freiberg sank two free throws to knot the score with 30 seconds left.

John Feustel, with 20 points, and Bill Rhode, with 15, led the Wolves.

Lane Wants Piersall but Gordon Doesn't

CLEVELAND (AP) — Frank Lane, who quit last week as general manager of the Cleveland Indians to take a similar job with the Kansas City Athletics, wants the Indians' center fielder, Jim Piersall, in a swap for Bill Tuttle.

"I'd like to have Piersall," said Lane on a stopover there Monday. "He'd stir up the fans in Kansas City like he did here. He's just what we need out there. We have to bring people into the ball park, and who can create more excitement than Piersall?"

Lane admitted his efforts to get Piersall had no support from the Athletics' field manager, Joe Gordon, who started last season as Cleveland manager.

"Gordon doesn't want him back," Lane said.

Oshkosh State '5' Defends Lead on Platteville Floor

OSHKOSH (AP)—Oshkosh will try to hold its top spot in the Wisconsin State College basketball conference race Saturday when it travels to Platteville.

Oshkosh has a 3-0 record for the year while Platteville is 2-2. The Platteville team lost its first game at home in 26 starts last Saturday when Superior beat it.

Conference competition will be resumed tonight at Superior when Eau Claire (2-2) meets the Superior team that has a 3-1 record.

Other conference games Saturday send Whitewater (3-1) to Stevens Point (2-1), Superior to Stout (0-3) and La Crosse (0-3) to River Falls (0-4). Three conference games are scheduled next Monday. Oshkosh will be host to Stevens Point, the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee will go to Whitewater and La Crosse will entertain Stout.

Joe Ludwig, Jr., Authors 570 Set

Joe Ludwig, Jr., bumped over a 570 threesome for the Whiskey Sour team in the latest round of Cocktail Couples League bowling at Ludwig Lane's, Freedom.

Vernadine Gerrits slapped a 206 for the Stingers to take women's honors. The Gin Bucks (16-8) lead by one game after copping three.

Heads Public Affairs In Defense Department

NEW YORK (AP) — Arthur Sylvester, chief of the Washington bureau of the Newark, N. J., Evening News, was designated Tuesday to become assistant secretary of defense for public affairs.

President-elect John F. Kennedy's headquarters here made the announcement.

Sylvester, 59, was born and received his early education in Montclair, N. J., and was graduated from Princeton University in 1923.

He joined the News the following year and worked his way up to city editor before being lent to the treasury department in 1944 to conduct the national news campaign for the fourth war loan. In April 1944, he was named Washington correspondent, and bureau chief for the News.

New Owner Eyes Spot in Majors for Dallas-Fort Worth

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Graying, soft-spoken Ray Johnston, a little man with big aspirations, Tuesday purchased for an undisclosed sum the Dallas-Fort Worth baseball franchise in the American Association.

Johnston, 45, for five years general manager of the league's Indianapolis club, left little doubt as to his plans for the Rangers' futures — a berth in the major leagues.

"This is a No. 1 baseball area," he said at a press conference. "If we put an exciting ball club on the field I don't think we have anything to worry about — eventually we'll make the major leagues."

John Graff (Right), Appleton High School junior varsity basketball coach, talks over strategy for this weekend's games with five players. They are, from left, Mike Woehler, Dick Schroeder, Pete Walter, Jerry Bishop and Carl Graves. The Junior Terrors, currently tied for second place in the Fox Valley JV Conference, meet Oshkosh Friday and Sheboygan South Saturday.

Lopez Says McLish, Pizarro and Score Will be Used as Starters

Manager Feels Orioles May Miss Woodling, Absence of Stengel to Hurt New York

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Al Lopez Monday tabbed his Chicago White Sox a pennant contender in 1961 and the New York Yankees - Baltimore Orioles as the teams to beat.

"Baltimore has some fine young players but it will miss Gene Woodling — the best clutch hitter it had," said Lopez at the Sox annual mid-winter press party. "And I think the Yankees will miss (Casey) Stengel. He was the best manager in the American League and handled the team real well."

Lopez said he expected pitcher Cal McLish to win 13 or 14 games this season. Melish was an 18-game winner for Cleveland in 1959 but skidded to a 4-14 record at Cincinnati last year.

He and pitcher Juan Pizarro of Milwaukee recently were obtained by the Sox in a three-way trade that sent third baseman Gene Freese to the Reds.

Another Relief
"What we would like to have is another relief pitcher to add to (Gerry) Staley and (Turk) Lown," Lopez added. "(Frank) Baumann is a real natural in the bull pen — having a good sinker that makes the batters hit the ball into the ground."

"Right now I would say our starters would be (Early) Wynn,

South Carolina Prep Cager Hits 108 Points

CASSATT, S. C. (AP) — Kenneth Robinson, an unheralded 6-foot-1 player who lives on a nearby farm, scored 108 points in a high school basketball game Tuesday night.

The 185-pounder led his unbeaten Midway High team to a 130-30 victory over Ruby High.

Robinson popped in 48 of 54 tries from the field and 12 of 14 free throws.

"I couldn't have done it without the others," he said after the game.

Midway Coach Loren Collins said Robinson had about 30 points at the end of the first quarter, and "the boys decided to feed him then."

UW's John Gotta Leaves School

MADISON (AP) — John Gotta, starting center on the University of Wisconsin Football team the last two seasons, has dropped out of school.

Friends said today Gotta planned to go into the tile business with his father in Kenosha.

Bleier's and Sindahl's Post Volleyball Wins

Bleier's (3-0) meets Power Company (0-3) and Sindahl's (3-0) plays AAL (0-3) in next week's second set of games in the Appleton Recreation Department's Men's Volleyball League.

In opening action, Bleier's won three from AAL, 15-4, 16-14, 15-12. Sindahl's topped Power Company, 15-11, 15-11, 15-5.

Class Yell Saves School Instructor

KENT, Ohio (AP) — A class yell — which had nothing to do with school spirit — saved Prof. Gertrude Lawrence of Kent State University from possible injury. Her class shouted a warning when a scaffold being raised outside the building knocked a large board onto the spot where she had been seated a moment before.

Red Eagles and Rockets Score Hockey Victories

The Rockets and Red Eagles were winners in opening Appleton Recreation Department Men's Hockey League action Tuesday at the Jones Park rink.

The Rockets shaded Pond's, 4-2, as Al Berman scored a pair of goals for the victors and Frykner and Herschel tallied one apiece. Tom Kotke and Barry DeLeeuw tallied for Pond's.

The Red Eagles shaded Countryside, 3-2. Jerry VandenHogen, Jim David and Gary Van Zealand scored for the Red Eagles in a 3-2 win over Countryside. Countryside's Roger Fahrenkrug and Lee Rasperson each netted a goal.

North Carolina Tumbles Wake Forest From First

Carl Lead DePaul To 69-60 Win Over Ohio Club

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The year's probation slapped on North Carolina's basketball team by the NCAA will hurt. The Tar Heels of smilin' Frank McGuire could be the toughest squad assembled at Chapel Hill since McGuire's unbeaten NCAA championships of 1957.

The Tar Heels, seventh-ranked nationally, accepted the news from Pittsburgh that makes them ineligible for this year's NCAA competition, then tumbled Wake Forest out of the Atlantic Coast Conference lead Tuesday night with an 83-74 victory.

It was the seventh in a row and ninth in 11 games for the Tar Heels, who moved up to second place in the rugged ACC with a 2-0 league record to 3-0 for Duke, the nation's No. 8 team.

McGuire and his mostly New York roster had indicated their superiority over the Blue Devils

Unbeaten Kimberly can move into a first place tie with idle Wilson in the Fox Valley Freshman Basketball League Thursday by beating visiting Roosevelt.

Kimberly has bounced Menasha, Kaukauna and Neenah while Roosevelt thumped Madison and lost to Wilson. The yearling Papermakers have averaged 47.3 points per game and allowed 30 per cent. Roosevelt's offensive average is 60, the defensive mark is 38.5.

Neenah, which has split four games and is tied for third with Roosevelt, plays a road contest against winless Kaukauna. Second division clubs Madison and Menasha meet in Menasha.

Among Kimberly's leading players are Lee Levknecht, Dennis Kroner and Gary Wyngaard. Roosevelt is led by pocket - sized guards Bill Peled and Chuck McKee and forward Jim Bertschy.

Dickie Kerr Is First Winner of Speaker Award

Houston Welcomed To Majors at Baseball Dinner

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Dickie Kerr, the honest hero of baseball's most embarrassing World Series, is the first winner of the annual Tris Speaker award.

Kerr, who pitched two victories against Cincinnati in the 1919 Black Sox World Series that some of his Chicago White Sox teammates said they tried to throw, got the award Tuesday night as President Warren Giles and seven National League managers welcomed Houston into the National League at the city's first major league baseball dinner.

Kerr was chosen for his contributions to baseball. One of them was seated at the head table — a onetime Class D pitcher named Stan Musial whom Kerr converted into one of the great hitters of all time.

Kerr was near tears as he faced the crowd of nearly a thousand at the banquet after he learned he won the award.

Can Hardly Speak

"I can hardly speak," he said. "But I'm so happy that in 1962 we in Houston won't have to look at television to see major league baseball."

Kerr is now a construction office manager in Houston—a city that has a franchise for National League play in 1962.

"In baseball's darkest hour, this man stood as a symbol of shining light," said Clark Nealon, sports editor of the Houston Post, when he gave the award to Kerr.

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

Nealon, who presented the award in behalf of the Houston chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America, said Kerr has always refused to discuss the 1919 scandal.

"Dickie Kerr is not eligible for the Hall of Fame, but he is a man who belongs in any baseball Hall of Fame," Nealon said.

Speaker, the first Texan to enter the baseball Hall of Fame, had a lifetime batting average of .344 after a 22-year career in the American League.

Kubek Thinks Competition for Jobs to Bring Braves Pennant

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Tony Kubek, New York Yankee shortstop, expected to see spirited competition for the shortstop spot between players who will be pushing veteran Johnny Logan and Roy McMillan, who was secured by Milwaukee this year and the Braves back to a National League pennant.

Kubek, in an interview Tuesday, predicted that Billy Martin, a former Yankee now with the Braves, will be pushing another out.

"That's how it's going to be Detroit infielder, for the second down the line and that's why the Braves are going to win."

George Shaw Reportedly Dealt To Minnesota

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A newspaper said today that George Shaw, former University of Oregon quarterback, has been traded by the New York Giants to the Minnesota Vikings, new entry in the National Football League.

The newspaper, The Oregonian, said Shaw is in Minneapolis arranging final details of the trade.

There was no immediate confirmation of the report.

Shaw, who was understudy to Charley Conerly at New York, formerly was with the Baltimore Colts.

German Official Says Hary Won't Lose Olympic Medals

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — A German sports official said Tuesday Armin Hary, Olympic sprint champion suspended for padding expense accounts, would not be forced to give up his medals as was Jim Thorpe, American winner of the decathlon title in the 1912 games.

Kurt Buelow, chairman of the legal committee that found Hary guilty, said he felt the German track ace would be restored to amateur competition after serving one-year suspension. Buelow also condemned the method of paying expenses of athletes, saying they virtually forced the athletes to be dishonest.

The committee that heard the charges against Hary found that he accepted $54,265 above expenses in two pre-Olympic meets last spring.

Bank Increases Seen at Meetings

Two City Firms Report Rise In Deposits to Stockholders

Appleton area residents apparently did more banking in 1960 than the previous year, as shown at the annual stockholders meetings of the three Appleton banks Tuesday.

Two of the banks reported an increase in deposits and no decreases were shown.

Gus A. Zuehlke, Appleton State Bank president, reported a record year with an increase of $2 million in deposits over 1959 and an increase in loans in all departments.

An increase of $1,663,653.35 in deposits at Outagamie County Bank was reported by A. O. Hansen, president. Total assets increased $1,761,842.26.

Harold C. Adams, First National Bank president, reported that savings balances had risen while checking account balances had risen but then decreased at the end of 1960, resulting in total deposits of $44,041,931.96, approximately what they were in 1959. Total assets were $50,124,127.30.

Appleton State Bank

Robert H. Zschaechner was elected cashier to replace Tim A. Sauer, who is retiring after 44 years with the bank. Sauer has been cashier since January, 1944.

Zschaechner is a graduate of Appleton High School, Lawrence College, and the Central State School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin. He has been an Appleton State Bank employee since 1928 and an officer since 1941.

All bank directors were re-elected. They are A. F. Zuehlke, George A. Buth, Seymour Gmeiner, C. A. Hofensperger, W. K. Miller, Walter H. Wiekert, and Gus A. Zuehlke.

Officers re-elected are A. F. Zuehlke, chairman of the board, Gus A. Zuehlke, president; Lawrence F. Schreiter, vice president and trust officer; Gilbert J. Reilly and C. A. Hofensperger, vice presidents; Carl F. Schreiter, Grace Haberman, H. R. Taggart, and Alvin R. Golz, assistant cashiers; A. W. Lautenschlager, assistant cashier and Shiocton branch manager; Milan R. Sousek, assistant cashier and Hortonville branch manager; and Ronald G. Abbott, assistant cashier and Fremont branch manager.

First National Bank

Elmer H. Jennings and Richard W. Mahony, Sr., were added to the board of directors. All other directors were re-elected. They are Harold C. Adams, W. E. Buchanan, John B. Catlin, Kenneth K. DuVall, Robert W. Ebben, Cola G. Parker, R. H. Purdy, W. E. Schubert, K. E. Stansbury, John G. Strange, William H. Zuehlke Sr. and Dewey Zwicker.

House Rules Committee Holds Power of Life, Death for Bills

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

In each house of congress there are formidable obstacles to the rule of simple majorities, and the question is how far these obstacles are to be removed.

But the problem in the house is different from the problem in the senate, and the difference involves an important difference of principle.

and indeed of the spirit and intent of the constitution itself. The problem in the house of representatives does not, as it does in the case of the senate, arise from the power of a minority to prevent legislation by a filibuster. The house does not have unlimited debate. The problem there arises from the fact that the rules committee has almost absolute power of life and death over bills before they can be voted upon. There may be a majority in favor of a bill. Unless the rules committee permits it, the majority cannot bring the bill to a vote.

6-6 Split

In recent years the rules committee has had twelve members, eight of them Democrats and four of them Republicans. But the difference between W. Smith of Virginia and Wil-ham M. Colmer of Mississippi, have formed an alliance with the four Republicans, thus dividing the committee six to six. This prevents it from acting affirmatively, and enables the conservative coalition to block not only civil rights legislation but all manner of so-called progressive legislation.

The problem of the senate, on the other hand, involves questions of high constitutional principle. The crux of the question is not whether the majority should rule, but what kind of majority should rule. Shall it be a simple numerical majority of the senators present and voting? Shall it be two-thirds of all the senators elected? Or shall it be something between the two?

Here lies the crux of the argument. What kind of majority shall have the right to end debate in the senate, and there-fore to bring about a vote? The kind of majority that has the power to do this has the power to legislate.

Wednesday, Jan. 11, 1961 Appleton Post-Crescent C14

get that majorities are not always liberal and that they may be quite tyrannical. It is, I have always thought, a short view of history to equate simple majority rule with the defense of the civil rights of Negroes. The civil rights of all Americans will be safer if within the Senate, which represents the federal principle, we do not give absolute power to simple majorities.

The recognition that there may be various kinds of majorities is deeply imbedded in the constitution. Simple majority rule — more than half of a quorum — is by no means the general principle of the constitution. Constitutional amendments, the expulsion of members, the over-riding of the President's veto, require two-thirds of all the senators elected. Treaties and impeachments require two-thirds of those present and voting. Why these variations? Because these are questions which involve the whole nation, it may be for war, the constitution requires that such grave decisions shall have a large not merely a simple majority.

In my view it is important, indeed vital to our liberties, to preserve the principle that for great issues, for issues that affect deep-seated great regions or sections of the nation, there should be required more than a simple majority. For we must never forget that majorities are not always liberal and that they may be quite tyrannical. It is, I have always thought, a short view of history to equate simple majority rule with the defense of the civil rights of Negroes. The civil rights of all Americans will be safer if within the Senate, which represents the federal principle, we do not give absolute power to simple majorities.

Room for Compromise The practical conclusion which I draw from this is that the question of cloture in the senate is not one of this or that but of more or less. Between the two extremes of a simple majority of a quorum and of a two-thirds majority of all the senators elected, there is plenty of room for compromise.

The proper point at which to make the compromise is where moderate southerners like Lyndon Johnson and Sam Rayburn can live with the solution, and feel that they are not being dragged over-riden. For nothing good can be done by persuasion and education if the moderates in the south feel that they are coerced.
